G.O.P. SPLIT MAY KILL CODE BILL

Davis' Reorganization Measure Hangs In Balance as Result of Row In the Majority Forces at Columbus—Proposed Cabinet Brings Crisis

Uniform Rule Tax Proponents Threaten Defeat of Governor's Plan If Certain Men are to be Picked as Department Heads

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — Governor Davis' reorganization bill, which has been passed by both branches of the legislature, was hanging in the balance today. Developments during the day may determine whether the bill will ever reach the governor for his signature or whether it will die in the legislature without the finishing touches being put on it. Amendments made by the senate require confirmation by the house on a two-thirds vote before the bill is finally passed.

Meeting yesterday after a three weeks' recess, house adherents of the uniform rule in taxation were confronted with what they considered administration inspired articles in newspapers stating that either L. J. Taber, state grange master, or C. A. Dyer, secretary of the Ohio Protective League, probably would be appointed director of agriculture under the reorganization bill. Both Taber and Dyer were members of the governor's citizens' taxation committee which recommended the adoption of a constitutional amendment abrogating the uniform rule and substituting therefor a limited form of classification.

CALL ON GOVERNOR

Some of uniform rule men were indignant. A committee of about 20 went to the executive office to protest against appointment of either Taber or Dyer, but the governor was at home suffering from an attack of tonsilitis. Mr. Waite, his private secretary, told the committee that the use of Taber's and Dyer's names for the secretaryship was unauthorized. Dyer is a Democrat. The uniform rule men also threaten to fight concurrence in amendments to the reorganization bill unless the governor changes his taxation program to suit them.

WILL CAUCUS AGAIN

A caucus of house majority members last evening failed to solve the dilemma, either on the taxation question or the reorganization bill. Another caucus is scheduled for late this evening at which both subjects will be considered again. In an attempt to start again on the taxation program, the caucus named a committee of six Republicans, three advocates of the uniform rule and three advocates of the governor's taxation plan, to try to work out a compromise measure. The uniform rule members are Fouts of Morgan, Chester of Paulding and Lytle of Medina. Members representing the governor's plan are Griswold of Geauga, Silver of Preble and Wenner of Ashtabula.

ADJOURNMENT ROW

House leaders have informally notified senate leaders that unless a definite date for adjournment is set immediately, the house will adopt the tactics of the senate and refuse to pass any more bills which originated in the senate. The senate has been following a similar course for more than three weeks.

The house yesterday turned its back on bills proposing four-year terms for county officials by the majority caucus instructing the calendar committee not to place those bills on the calendar for passage. If this course is followed by the committee, the bills are dead unless the house votes to take the bills up without action by the calendar committee which is considered unlikely.

HARDING TO SPEAK IN N. Y. TODAY

Makes Address at Unveiling of Simon Bolivar's Statute

ON BOARD PRESIDENT HARDING'S SPECIAL TRAIN.—(By United Press.)—Leaving Washington for the first time since his inauguration, President Harding made a hurried trip to New York today to deliver a message of good will to South America. Mrs. Harding accompanied him.

His speech will be the crowning event at the unveiling of the statue of Simon Bolivar, South American liberator, in Central Park this afternoon.

It will be his first discussion of Pan-American policies, that subject having been kept out of the inaugural address, and his first message to congress and reserved for special treatment today.

A galaxy of notables will attend the ceremonies, including Secretary of State Hughes, practically every South American diplomat stationed in Washington, Governor Miller and Mayor Hylan, senators and internationally-known figures in the business and financial world.

Pressed for time, President Harding has allowed himself only three hours in New York City today. He left Washington after breakfast and is scheduled to be back at the White House before midnight. Harding accepted the invitation only because of his keen interest in South American affairs. He plans to lunch on the train, go direct to the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel on arrival to meet the committee in charge of the ceremonies and then ride up Fifth-ave. to Central Park, for the unveiling, arriving there probably about 3:30 p. m.

MAN'S BODY FOUND IN LAKE AT CINCINNAT

CINCINNATI—A hastily written will was found in clothing of Adam Bossman, 65, whose body was found floating in Burnet woods lake last night by four boys passing thru the park on their way home.

The will bequeathed his money and home to his sister, Mrs. Fred Wyhoff. The will of his dead wife, leaving her property to him, also was in his pocket. Bank notes amounting to $205 also were carried by Bossman. Relatives said he had been despondent because of unemployment.

BEER LIMIT MAY BE REMOVED

Quantity to be Allowed Sick Now Under Consideration

NOT FIXED BY VOLSTEAD ACT

Ruling Will be Made by Revenue Bureau

WASHINGTON — (By United Press)—A change in the new beer regulations which, if put into effect, would permit physicians to prescribe medicinal beer without limit, is under consideration by the internal revenue bureau, it was learned today.

As they stand at present, the regulations restrict the amount of beer that may be prescribed for one patient to 4 7-8 gallons a month. The proposed change would remove this restriction.

Final decision as to what shall be done with the quantity clause has not been reached as yet, it was made plain.

VOLSTEAD LAW CITED

However, it has been pointed out to the prohibition enforcement department that the Volstead law does not attempt to specify the amount of beer that may be prescribed, but speaks only of the use of liquors for non-beverage purposes. This has brought up the question of whether the quantity clause is legal. There is also the consideration that more effective enforcement may be had by placing physicians on their honor in the matter of beer prescriptions. Prohibition Commissioner Kramer has made no attempt to restrict physicians in the amounts of wine that may be prescribed.

UP TO WEST

Whether the 4 7-8 gallon clause is to go or stay, probably will be made known within the next few days.

Acting Internal Revenue Commissioner West now has the beer regulations before him. There is a strong movement on to make West the permanent commissioner. If this is done the regulations may go to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon for his signature at once. If some one else is appointed commissioner, he will probably want to review the regulations.

In anticipation of the signing of the regulations, the internal revenue bureau is advising its agents how to keep track of the real beer drawn out of various breweries.

NEWSPAPER-ADVERTISER FIGHT AT PEORIA ENDS IN VICTORY FOR PAPERS

PEORIA, Ill.—(By United Press.)—The fight which has been in progress nearly four months between the daily newspapers of this city and a group of large advertisers ended today. The newspapers the Star, Journal and Transcript, won a decisive victory and a substantial increase in rates. Four of the largest advertisers in the city had combined in an effort to keep rates down to a figure which the publishers claimed was below cost.

SUSPECT IN HOLDUP IS TAKEN BY SHERIFF

COLUMBUS — Authorities in towns surrounding Columbus today were on the lookout for three bandits who last night flagged and held up a Scioto Valley traction car, en route from Columbus to Lancaster, near Big Walnut Station, nine miles southwest of Columbus. One suspect, taken early today, is held by Sheriff Holycross for possible identification.

The trio secured about $400 and some jewelry from five passengers. Three women passengers were not molested.

POLICE SCANDAL IS COMPLICATED

Officials Declare Roush Took Credit Not Due Him—Volcano In Department Threatens to Break Forth at Any Minute

Grand Jury May be Asked to Make Probe of Conditions In Lima—Safety Director Asked for Cash to Run Down 'Leggers

Lima's police scandal which caused a sensation several days ago and which has been held in the background for two weeks, Tuesday gave every sign of breaking out anew and in a more complicated manner.

Some officials higher-up took issue with the statement Monday of Police Chief Roush that he "fired" a patrolman for failure to discover a window robbery in the business section until it was called to his attention by a citizen. It is declared that the order originated with Safer Fred Fisher and that Roush merely carried out the order from his superior, altho he took credit for the act in a statement for publication.

Internal rumblings in the police force were heard, declared to originate over the alleged efforts of some officers to "get the scalps" of others. An officer high up in the department is declared to be slated to be "got" and around this is centering a volcano which promises to break forth at any minute.

Mayor F. A. Burkhardt, who two weeks ago declared the police department was inefficient and implied that it would be given a chance to make good, said Tuesday all he knew of the dismissal of Patrolman Dawson was the statement from Safer Fisher Monday that he had dismissed the officer.

Burkhardt declined to say what steps he will take in the police muddle. He refused to say whether the investigation he started several days ago will be dropped or whether he has plans for action soon. His attitude would indicate the latter.

GRAND JURY MAY BE ASKED TO MAKE PROBE OF AFFAIRS HERE

There were indications Tuesday that the new grand jury will be asked to make an investigation of affairs in Lima. This was divulged in discussion by officials of the Lillian Gordon case in which a jury disagreed a few days ago when she was tried on a charge of running a disorderly house.

It is understood that Mayor Burkhardt has some ideas along this line, but that he feels the legal department of the city is opposed to such action. Definite announcement as to whether the investigating body will be called upon to probe and make recommendations could not be secured Tuesday.

The old grand jury, after examining scores of witnesses some months ago, attached to its report a recommendation that the police department be reorganized. City officials at that time declined to take any note of the suggestion and the matter was dropped.

Chief Roush Tuesday asked Safer Fisher for an allowance of money to be used in running down bootleggers in this city during the year. He said $2,000 at least would be needed. Fisher was unable to give any assurance that the money would be forthcoming, the matter being wholly within the hands of council. It is probable that a request for funds will be made soon to that body.

That police are lax in running down liquor law violators was one of the principal accusations of Mayor Burkhardt when he first opened fire on the department.

U. S. NAVY PLANE TO CROSS PACIFIC

Giant Airship Now Being Built for the Trip

JOURNEY OF 6,200 MILES

History-Making Hop-off Planned for Late This Summer

(BY HAROLD D. JACOBS)

NEW YORK — The United States navy, first to take a trans-Atlantic flight, will send a giant plane winging across the Pacific late this summer or early next spring.

The triplane craft which will be known as the "Giant Boat," has been under design and construction for more than a year. The wings and "hull" are being made at the naval aircraft factory, Philadelphia.

The motors and nacelles, or bodies, are being turned out by the Gallaudet Aircraft Corporation at East Greenwich, Conn. The propellers are being built in Baltimore by the American Propeller Company.

The time of the flight will depend upon when the craft is completed and upon the results of the exhaustive tests to which the "Giant Boat" will be subjected. It is planned to begin assembling the plane in June or July.

The tentative route is:

San Diego, Calif., to Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands, 2,100 miles.

Honolulu to Wake Island, 1,890 miles.

Wake Island to Guam, 1,100 miles.

Guam to Manila, Philippine Islands, 1,200 miles.

PROPELLER ARRIVES

Whether the plane would continue to the Asian mainland has not been determined. The longest single "hop" of the historic N. C.-4 in 1919, was from Nova Scotia to the Azores, a distance of 1,100 miles.

The general public had its first opportunity to marvel at the size of the great seaplane today when one of its 18-foot, three-bladed propellers arrived in New York. The propeller was brought here from Baltimore, enroute to East Greenwich, where it will receive its initial test at the Gallaudet works.

Arriving at an East River pier, the propeller was to be transferred by motor truck to a New England coastal steamer for shipment to East Greenwich.

THREE LIBERTY MOTORS

The "Giant Boat" will have a wing spread of 167 feet and will have three propellers, each driven by three 400-horsepower Liberty motors, developing a total of 3,600 horsepower. The most radical departure from previous seaplane construction, will be the arrangement of the motors and propellers. Each of the three Nacelles will contain the Gallaudet gear drive, making possible the connection of three motors with each propeller. Any motor may disengaged without interfering with the operation of the propeller.

The motors will be placed in an enclosed area, giving the mechanics opportunity to make any repairs without danger or inconvenience. The nacelles are torpedo-shaped bodies and the propeller in each is situated somewhat behind their middle and aft the planes. This has the added effect of reducing wind friction to a minimum.

The trial staplane driven by a single motor under this new type of construction; recently made the phenomenal speed of 132.3 miles an hour. It was driven by Lieutenant E. F. Stone, who was one of the pilots of the N. C.-4. The plane climbed 7,700 feet in 10 minutes.

The "giant boat" probably will be able to make 110 miles an hour. It will have a lifting capacity of 30,000 pounds and a cruising radius of 3,000 miles without fuel replenishment. The crew probably will consist of at least 12 men.

Unlike the trans-Atlantic flight when three planes took off simultaneously, the attempt to cross the Pacific; it is understood, will be made by one craft.

EXILED EMPRESS BURIED IN HOME SOIL AS HEROINE

Former Kaiserin of Germany Is Paid Honors In Death Denied Her While Living—Great Display of Nobility and Military Attends Ceremony

POTSDAM, Germany — (By United Press) — The exiled Empress Augusta Victoria was buried here today, amid honors denied her while living.

Never a popular figure with the German masses, the former kaiserin was buried as a heroine with thousands of persons massing back of police lines to doff their hats and bow as the casket passed toward the mausoleum in which it was to be laid.

No event since the war has brought out such a display of the nobility and military pride of Prussia.

SPECIAL TRAINS

Mingling in the crowds were brilliantly uniformed officers of the old regime.

The spectators brought hundreds of wreaths, the fragrance of their cut flowers mingling with that of blooming trees in the royal park.

General Van Hindenburg, in full uniform, was a prominent figure in the services. He was accompanied by Ludendorff and Mackensen. General Von Falkenhayn led a regiment of Hussars, the only complete military organization in the procession. The general carried the crown of the ex-empress.

The casket lay for a time in the royal waiting room, while the procession was being formed to escort it to San Souci.

Dr. Dryander, court chaplain, led the way. Deputies of the ex-empress, in court uniforms, were next in line. General Von Falkenhayn astride a black horse, sabre and saddle hung with crepe, bore a sable cushion, on which gleamed the royal diadem.

SONS IN UNIFORM

Behind the general's horsemen, guarded by a squadron of cuirassiers, rolled the hearse and immediately back of it paced four Knights of the Black Eagle, carrying the casket cloth.

The former kaiserin's sons followed the knights. Eitel Freiderich, Adelbert and August Wilhelm were in full uniform. The former crown princess, whose husband was left in Holland to mourn with his exiled father, came next in an automobile.

Knights of the Black Eagle, next marched in solid ranks. After them came the ex-kaiserin's suite, 72 princes and princesses of the old regime, court officials and honorary organizations.

The chapel in San Souci was chosen for the last rites, the former empress having so directed. The casket finally was to be laid in the mausoleum beside the remains of Frederick the Great and those of her son Joachim, who committed suicide last summer.

SUITS FACED BY LANDLORDS

Rent Act, Aimed at Profiteers, Upheld by Court

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press)—Washington landlords who have ignored rent-fixing decisions under the District of Columbia rent act today faced the prospect of rental rebate suits involving hundreds of thousands of dollars as a result of the decision of the United States supreme court yesterday holding the act constitutional. In estimating the amount involved in the rebate liabilities of landlords who have ignored decisions of the District rent commission, members of the commission declared today that of a total of approximately 5,000 decisions handed down fifty per cent of them had been ignored.

The law, which is known as the Ball act and was passed by congress as an emergency measure, specifically provides for a rebate to tenants of all rental charged in excess of that fixed by the commission in addition to fines for violation. Strict enforcement of the law and punishment of violators was urged by District Commissioner James F. Oyster, former member of the rent commission.

FRENCH RUNNERS ARE THIRSTY!

PHILADELPHIA — Native Americans aren't the only ones complaining of the Volstead act.

Manager Rene De Leliva, of the French track team here to compete in the Penn relays April 29 and 30 today declared his men are already "off form" because they cannot get wine to drink with their meals. They never drink water. I am going to Washington today to see if Ambassador Jusserand cannot help us."

He said his men do not drink strong liquor, but like light wines with their meals like Americans like milk. Thin, watery "vin rouge" will do, he said.

MAN'S LIFE SAVED BY OVERSIGHT

Louisiana Sheriff Forgot to Hang Him, Will be Pardoned

BATON ROUGE, La. — (By Associated Press) — The case of Lonnie Eaton, negro whom the sheriff of Ouachita forgot to hang February 4, was on the docket for disposal by the state pardon board at its meeting here today.

Eaton's case caused widespread comment when Sheriff Grant wrote Governor Parker shortly after February 4, that he had been so rushed with work that he forgot to hang Eaton, who was accused of participating in the murder of a white man.

The attorney general in a written opinion held that Eaton's status was unchanged by the sheriff's oversight and that there was nothing in the statute books to prevent a future date being set for the execution. Taking other circumstances into consideration, however, the attorney general expressed himself in favor of a pardon. His view was seconded by Governor Parker. The views of Lieutenant Governor Bouanchaud, the third member of the board, have not been expressed

PRESIDENT BACKS SALVATION ARMY

Gives $5,000 for New Building at Marion

CINCINNATI — (By Associated Press.)—President Harding not only has enthusiastically endorsed the Salvation Army's 1921 home service campaign, it was announced here today, but has contributed $5,000 to the Salvationists toward erecting a $40,000 army corps building in his home town of Marion.

In a letter to Brigadier Herbert Roberts, of Cincinnati, divisional commander of the Salvation Army for Western Ohio and Kentucky, President Harding says:

"Having seen very much of the useful and patriotic work of the Salvation Army in all parts of the country, and having an opportunity to familiarize myself with its work both here and abroad during the war, I am very glad, indeed, to give my endorsement to your campaign for extension of its efforts. The Salvation Army surely deserves well of all appreciative and loyal Americans and I wish you all success."

The campaign referred to by President Harding is to raise funds by the creation of community advisory boards, in an effort to extend the 16 major activities of the Salvation Army from the cities to the rural districts where, Brigadier Roberts, explains, much misery originates.

SEEK RETAINING WALL BONDS

People Asked to Vote Money for River Improvement

PROGRAM BEFORE COUNCIL

$1,063.666 Bonds and Notes for Municipal Purposes

The matter of retaining walls for the Ottawa river was again brought to the attention of the council Monday night when Mrs. Paul H. Runyan, 739 E. Market-st, complained that unless a retaining wall is built the foundation of her residence would soon be in the river.

"This is only one of the many cases," said President of council W. J. Dempster. "Unless the city builds retaining walls we are going to have to pay damages in excess of the cost of the walls." Dempster asks the press to inform the public of the condition and exert effort to influence the public to vote for a bond issue to build the walls.

BOND ISSUE ASKED

City Auditor Rupert reported there is a fund of $12,000 on hand that could be used for the purpose. City Engineer Vaughn Miller stated that the wall asked by Mrs Runyan would cost approximately half that amount.

The matter was referred to the finance committee and engineer.

Offers to co-operate on the part of the county commissioners caused city council to take steps towards the erection of a comfort station in the public square and the construction of new streets

Commissioners offered to pay half the cost of the construction of a comfort station and to pay 90 percent of the cost of paving Findlay-st from Jackson-st to the D. T. & I. Railroad and Kibby-st from Prospect-st to Bellefontaine-ave. However the commissionsrs can only legally pave a street 17 feet four inches wide so property owners will pave the remainder of the 30 foot street.

COMFORT STATION PLANS

An ordinance authorizing the Service Director to employ architects to draw plans for a modern comfort station in the square was passed and legislation was ordered authorizing the county commissioners to proceed with the paving.

Residents of Grand-ave thronged the council chamber and asked relief from a peculiar situation. The city has two contracts, one to construct the Collet-st sewer and another to pave the street. Service Director McClain will not allow the paving to proceed until the sewer is constructed. Grand-ave residents asked that the contract for paving be declared invalid, saving that it could be paved cheaper now or later than at the time the contract was let. The city solicitor said that could not be done without paying the construction company damages. The residents said they did not want the sewer, but had been waiting two years for the paving.

RELIEF SEWER ORDERED

Service Director McClain was authorized to employ engineers to draw plans for a relief sewer system. This, with the intercepting sewer system, will complete the Lima sewerage system.

Mrs. Johanno Halloran, 183 S. Jackson-st, asked for $554 damages caused by earth being thrown around her home by contractors, thereby necessitating the raising of the house.

Mrs Anna Tohle, 1472 W. Elm-st alleged that she was made a permanent invalid as a result of being struck by an automobile at Elm and Franklin-sts and that the city was to blame because a sidewalk had been torn up, causing her to have to walk in the street. The matter was referred to the mayor and city solicitor to arrange a settlement.

Service Director McClain in a communication to council designated three places in the city where rubbish might be dumped. His recommendations were approved.

IMPROVEMENTS PLANNED

A sewer was ordered constructed in Franklin-st from High-st, north to the city limit.

Calumet-st was ordered graded and improved from Bellefontaine-ave to E. Market-st.

Hazel-ave was ordered paved from Cole-st to Jameson-ave and from Baxter to McDonel-st.

Center-st was ordered paved from St. Johns to Hughes-ave.

Petitions for paving Michael-ave from Pine to Calumet-sts and for construction of a sewer in E. Murphy st from Main-st to the B. & O railroad were referred to committees

Council confirmed the appointment of Mayor F. A. Burkhardt of Frank E. Harman, Mrs. Fred C. Becker, O. C. Snyder, Mrs. William Wilson and James L. Henry as members of a park commission.

Petition for acceptance of the War Gardens subdivision was referred to a committee.

ORDER $1,063,666 ISSUE

A resolution was adopted authorizing the advertising of improvement bond and note issues aggregating $1,063,666.

An appropriation for $10,054 from the automobile license fund to be used for street repair was ordered.

Council appropriated $450 for outdoor relief.

A lot at McDonel-st and Grand-ave thru which the Collet-st sewer will pass was ordered purchased for $1,000.

A petition from the safety department for an additional appropriation of $250 was granted and a request for $407 from the engineering department was referred to the finance committee.

MOVIE STAR PLAYS JAZZ WHILE IN JAIL ON SPEEDING SENTENCE

SANTA ANA, Cal — (By United Press) — "Five more days and 'my stretch' is over. We criminals count the hours, you know."

Bebe Daniels was talking. She had just arisen from a refreshing sleep, rubbing her big black eyes with small white knuckles, donned a fetching gown especially designed for jail wear, and was prepared for another strenuous day. The movie star is serving a ten-day sentence imposed for "stepping on it" in a roadster to the tune of 56.25 miles an hour.

A fair idea of the motion picture star's jail routine, was gained by a United Press reporter, who spent three hours behind the bars with her In that spare of time she played at least 50 "jazz" records on a phonograph equipped with an electric winder.

She received 30 visitors and jested with each.

Ate a hearty meal which she helped to serve.

Munched dozens of chocolates.

Harold Lloyd, Marie Mosquini, Max Linder and Penryn Stanlaws were among the visitors. Almost every one who called, brought candy or flowers

Each night before retiring, she plays cards with the only woman prisoner in the jail, a young woman held as an accomplice of "bootleggers."

SEYMOUR ALTERS PLEA; SENTENCED

Forger Decides to Give up Fight For Liberty

Grant Seymour, alleged forger, whose trial has been set for Tuesday changed his plea late Monday afternoon from not guilty to that of guilty. He was sentenced to a term in the penitentiary.

Seymour told Prosecuting Attorney Lippincott Saturday he would figure up costs to see if he could afford the price, to change his plea. He summed up the total amount of costs to be incurred almost as well as a clerk making up the bill.

Prosecutor Lippincott said Seymour had a fair knowledge of law and he declared this was probably due to the fact he had served time before.

Seymour was indicted for having forged checks on Lima merchants. His arrest followed in Delphos after he had left Lima, when a young woman to whom he had sent letters, informed police of his presence in the canal city the night of his arrest.

Seymour wears fine clothes and has polished manners. Merchants are said to have in no way doubted the representations he made and to have extended him the coutesy of cash on checks. He stated he represented a large wholesale house with which Lima firms are said to have been familiar.

"CLEAR DECKS FOR ACTION!" HIS MESSAGE

Claims That Syrola Adds Sheer Fighting Power That Comes from Healthy Organs

"Clear decks for action!"

When this order sends its thrill thru every jackie on Uncle Sam's dreadnaughts it means that everything that gives no aid in battle must go overboard. Every gun must be spic and span—ready to deliver its projectiles against the foe!

How would you clear for action? Would your organs be clean, healthy sturdy? Would your blood be rich in the tiny fighting red corpuscles? They would if you had been taking Syrola.

Syrola gets into every nook and crany of the eliminative organs; cleanses the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels of impurities so that nourishing food can be turned into blood, bone and muscle.

The real joy of living is absent in an alarming number of people because undigested food is poisoning their systems and impoverishing their blood. They need the sheer fighting power that comes from healthy organs, and that power Syrola provides.

Hundreds everywhere know this. It's time you too realized it. Your fellow townsmen know and endorse Syrola and you will when it demonstrates its splendid work. Get a bottle now and learn what it means to have healthy, clean, fighting organs.

Syrola is being specially introduced in Lima by a special laboratory representative at the Public Drug Store, 142 N. Main-st —adv.

BABY HANGS SELF

Dies Trying to Leave Crib in Cincinnati Hospital

CINCINNATI — (By Associated Press) — An effort to get out of its crib caused one of two boys to strangle himself between the slays of the little bed at the general hospital here early today. Harry and David Lenharr, 2 years, Middletown, Ohio, were removed to the institution yesterday for the purpose of having their limbs straightened. Both were wide awake early today. A. C. Bachmeyer, superintendent of the institution, in his investigation found that nothing had been left undone for the safety of the children. Cribs with guards are used in the wards to prevent the children from falling out and the little boy tried to get out of bed thru the iron uprights. It is the first accident of the kind ever recorded at the hospital.

ULTIMATUM SENT TO GERMANY

Allies Demand Reparations Gold Deposit by April 22

PARIS.—(By Associated Press.) —The allied reparations commission announced today that it had given Germany until April 22, to transfer the gold holdings of the Reichsbank, the German Imperial bank, to the Coblenz and Cologne branches of the bank. If Germany refuses to comply with the ultimatum the commission, it states, will require the immediate delivery of the gold to the commission itself.

In the event of the transfer of the gold to the branches named, the sum may continue to figure as part of the balance of the Reichsbank, the commission explains, but the German government would have no right to dispose of it without obtaining previous authority from the commission to do so.

It was semi-officially announced in Berlin Monday that the reparations commission had verbally notified German officials that the gold reserve of the Reichsbank and other German issuing banks must be deposited before May 1, either in Cologne or Coblenz, as security for reparations. The semi-official announcement added that the German government had declared the demand to be unacceptable under any circumstances.

The latest figures on the gold holdings of the Reichsbank, contained in the bank's statement for April 7, showed that on that date they were 1,091,602,000 marks.

LIMA PEOPLE WITNESS CHICAGO DEMONSTRATION IN AID TO IRISH CAUSE

Delegates and a party of interested members of Lima branch have returned from Chicago, where they attended the meeting of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic.

A parade, in which delegates from states as far west as California, took part, extended for miles down Michigan-ave Sunday, made up of enthusiasts for the Irish cause.

Mrs. McSwiney, wife of the lord mayor who died for the sake of the Irish cause, from starvation in Brixton prison in England was present and shook hands with Lima persons who attended.

Delegates from Lima branch were: John Keville, Miss Magaret Connell and Patrick Sullivan. The Misses Catherine O'Brien, Ella O'Keefe and Alice Mumaugh were also among those from Lima who attended the Chicago gathering.

LIMA FORTUNATE RUPERT SAYS

Financial Deficiency is Small, Compared With Other Cities

Lima's deficiency bond issue to provide money for operating expenses for the remainder of the year 1921 is small compared to other Ohio cities, according to City Auditor D. L. Ruppert. Lima has $107,866.13; Mansfield $184,000; Dayton $450,000; and Cincinnati $2,350,000.

Ohio cities are forced to issue deficiency bonds because of the restrictive tax laws which limits the tax rate to one per cent of the total assessed valuation, unless the people vote otherwise. As a result, budgets are small and it is necessary to float deficiency bonds, on which the city must pay interest. In most other states cities fix their budgets at any amount they choose and are not required to bother with or pay interest on deficiency bonds.

Last year City Auditor Rupert was authorized to float $69,700 in deficiency bonds, but by tightening the city's purse strings he was able to get by on $62,000.

ANSWER IS FILED

J. Harold Williams Charked With Cruelty by His Wife

Mrs. Blanche M. Williams has answered the divorce petition of her husband, J. Harold Williams, filed in court some weeks ago. Williams, in his action, charged desertion by his wife. He resides at the Uhlan hotel.

Mrs. Williams in her answer, says her husband provided her with no home, no food and no clothing and that she was forced to place her children either in the Day Nursery or with relatives.

While Williams acknowledged to but one child, Annabelle, 3, who is with him, Mrs. Williams says they have two children, John Harold, one year old, being the other.

Mrs. Williams relates that she was morced to have her husband arrested for non-support to secure assistance to rear her children and that he is now under orders of the court. The petition sets forth that upon her husband telling her he had withdrawn his divorce petition, they lived together, since the action for divorce was begun by him. She charges cruelty and says he spends his time in idleness and dissapation.

She asks $10 a week for the support of the little ones, whose custody she seeks. The couple were married in Newport, Ky., on March 3, 1916.

THREE TAKEN IN HOOTCH RAIDS

Alleged Robbery of Booze Cache at Botkins

WAPAKONETA. — (Special) — Botkins, small town five miles south of here, is all stirred up over a raid on a cache of hootch. For weeks Sheriff Clarke of Shelby-co hunted the hoard, but was only successful when the alleged moonshiners fell out among themselves.

Urban Kennedy, 23, was arrested. It all came out when Kennedy attacked Marvin Boyer, a lad under twenty, for stealing his "liker." Kennedy complains Boyer robbed his cache several times. He set a steel trap and when Boyer was caught he assaulted him. Boyer's brother a wrestler, took up the quarrel and things were moving lively in the little village for several days

The officers moved over to Jackson Center, a few miles to the east, and arrested Frank Wikle and son Fred, charged with operating a still. Nine quarts of hootch and ten bushels of mash were found.

Kennedy was arraigned before Squire Hessand on his plea of guilty to the charge of selling bootleg whiskey was fined $100 The Wikles have not yet been arraigned

Archbishop Henry Moeller of Cincinnati will be a visitor here Wednesday evening, April 27, for the purpose of conferring confirmation on a class at St. Joseph's church

Died, John Kinstle, 81, uremic poisoning, Civil War veteran

In jail here for forgery, Wesley Schroerlucke, 17, Washington tp, maintained a stoical silence Officers thought him to be a hardened criminal. But when he was arraigned before Judge Boesel Monday and the Rev. Mr. Phillips, pastor of the New Knoxville Methodist church, painted a vivid word picture of the reformatory and appealed to him in a spiritual way he broke down and asked for a Bible to read in jail He has confessed, officers say.

Due to its narrowness, Auglaize-st, most important thorofare here, may be made a one-way street to facilitate traffic

G B Hamilton, St. Marys, was endorsed for deputy internal revenue collector and John R. Bennett, of Waynesfield, as a member of the board of Auglaize county board of election supervisors, at a meeting of the county Republican committee.

Contrary to expectations, bond for David Whitfield, Guy Tennent or Al Karch, held at the county jail here charged with holding up William Weber's poker den, has not been furnished. Bond for each was reduced from $10,000 to $5,000 by Judge Layton last week.

Construction of a grandstand at the city baseball park is under way by Henry W. Newmier and men. The Reds begin their season on May 1, playing New Bremen.

For the fifth time in her life, Elizabeth Groll, high school senior, suffered a fracture dislocation of the left knee. She was playing basketball and fell.

DO YOU KNOW?

Coal is plentiful now, but in about three weeks time lake shipments will begin. Optimists believe that within a short time factories will be going full force and will demand large quantities of coal. Road construction and building operations will demand open top cars.

All of these causes will combine to make the coal situation acute and we will not be able to supply the demand for domestic coal.

JAIL DELIVERY IS FRUSTRATED

Prisoners Attempt to Escape From Van Wert Prison

ONE ACCUSED OF MURDER

Delphos to Send Good Roads Booster Here Friday

Here Friday

DELPHOS—(Special)—Carl Yoh, inmate of the Van Wert-co jail, charged with auto stealing, and William Robinson, were caught by Sheriff Sells while attempting to escape. The only other inmate of the jail at the time was John Lampe, Mercer-co farmer, who was placed on trial Monday charged with first degree murder.

When the sheriff locked the jail for the night, Yoh hid in the corridor. His actions had aroused suspicions, however, and the sheriff stationed armed deputies around the jail when he accidentally discovered that Yoh was not in his cell.

The young men were caught while attempting to remove the keys to the jail from a hook on the kitchen wall by means of a wire which they had obtained in some unknown way. They were attempting to get the keys thru the bars of the door leading from the corridor to the kitchen. Had they succeeded, all that would have remained would have been to unlock the front door and walk out. If they so desired, they could have freed Lampe with a little trouble.

St. Joseph's Society of the Catholic church organized here Sunday by electing the following officers: Honorary president, Benjamin German; honorary vice-president, John Walsh; president, Frank Wahmhoff; vice-president, John G. Birkmeier; recording secretary, Henry A. Lange; treasurer, J. H. Lange; marshal, Joseph Lang; assistant marshal, Joseph Saunders; banner bearer, Daniel Schmeltzer.

The society voted $200 from their treasury to help with needed improvements on the home of the Notre Dame Sisters here. John Lehmkuhle is chairman, and F. A. Stallkamp and H. A. Lange are members of the committee appointed to have charge of the work.

Gertrude Elizabeth, the 5-year-old and only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Metzker, of this city, died late Sunday after a day's illness from mastoid trouble. The child became ill Sunday morning and about noon convulsions set in, followed soon by her death. Surviving are her parents and three brothers. Funeral services Thursday.

An invitation has been received by the Delphos Community club to have a representative in attendance at a meeting of the good road enthusiasts from Allen, Van Wert, Mercer, Shelby, Auglaize, Hardin and Logan counties, which is to be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms at Lima on Friday of this week.

A special meeting of the Tri-County Fair Association has been called by President H. D. Bickel for Wednesday evening, when plans for the holding of the fair will be perfected. The date for the event has been set for the week of September 19 to 26.

The Soldiers' Relief Committee in Marion-tp organized here by electing J. M. Cochran president, William Point vice-president and J. H. Wahmhoff secretary.

THE Lotion for Skin Disease

HUNTER'S DRUG STORES

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Hunter's 2 Drug Stores, Enterprise Drug Store, Thompson Drug Store, Interurban Drug Store, Public Drug Store have been appointed agent for Allenrhu in this vicinity with the understanding that they will freely return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they received no benefit.—Adv.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel: there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c.

Eczema Quit Itching

A young lady visiting friends in Cincinnati writes this interesting letter: "It seems to me that no one need suffer the tortures of Eczema now that they can get Hydrosal. I came here for a visit and my friend told me of this wonderful remedy. It was terribly humiliating to be scratching all the time, but I simply couldn't help it. I had suffered from Eczema for several years—could hardly sleep nights and in spite of everything I tried I could get no relief until they told me about Hydrosal. The first application of Hydrosal Ointment stops the horrible itching almost immediately after the first application of Hydrosal Ointment was the last of my itching, for I kept on using it and now there is no trace of it left. I could use it night and day for it never soiled or stained my clothing."

Hydrosal Ointment stops the horrible itching almost immediately after the first application and if you keep on using it the inflammation is allayed and the rash disappears. It is wonderful too, for healing ulcers and old sores or any skin disease that itches or burns. Pimples often disappear over night.

Hydrosal is sold and recommended by Thompson's 2 Drug Stores, Keltner's Enterprise Drug Store, Hunter's 2 Drug Stores, Mykrantz Drug Co. and most other drug stores at 25c and 50c. Write today for our free booklet on skin diseases and their treatment and a sample of Hydrosal to show you what it may do in your own case. Address 4319 Hydrosal Laboratories, Cincinnati, O.—Adv.

200 PHYSICIANS ATTEND CLINIC

Second Annual Event at St. Rita's Hospital

DEMONSTRATIONS ARE GIVEN

Complete Program of Medical Assembly, Tuesday

Advantages of fine equipment, good service and a medical and surgical staff excelled not even by big cities of the country, was the consensus of opinion of physicians who attended the second annual clinic, held Tuesday at St. Rita's hospital.

More than 200 physicians from towns, villages and cities within a radius of 50 miles in Lima, attended the meeting. This was almost double the number which attended last year. The various departments of the hospital were open for inspection and cases of interest to physicians in their practice, were shown.

REPASTS SERVED

The visiting doctors were guests at a luncheon at noon and will partake of dinner Tuesday evening at the hospital, as a courtesy of St. Rita's, with Mother Superior Margaret Mary in charge. A club of young girls, recently organized for service to the hospital, will serve both meals.

The surgical and medical side were emphasized in the work of the clinic. Tonsils of children were removed and operations performed for the benefit of visitors. The doctors were thus given a view of the fine operating apparatus and modernly equipped operating room and facilities at St. Rita's.

Medical papers on diseases with which the doctor who has not the facilities of the hospital near at hand were given. Demonstrations of mental cases, of tuberculosis patients and those of social diseases and internal secretions formed a part of the program. Eye defects were also cared for in the presence of the visitors.

St. Rita's, as a result of its facilities, is well patronized, rooms being filled at all times and patrons coming from many of the towns represented by visiting physicians here Tuesday.

DR. LYONS TO LECTURE

Dr. Chalmers J. Lyons, professor of oral surgery in the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, will lecture to a joint meeting of physicians and dentists, Tuesday night. His subject will be, "Focal Infections." Dr. Lyons will lay special emphasis on conditions arising from infection originating in the mouth. The meeting will be held at the roof garden at St. Rita's.

Sessions during the day Tuesday were held at the roof garden, with the exception of such cases requiring the operating room or some special part of the hospital. Dr. T. R. Thomas is p resident of thes taff of St. Rita's.

The committee on entertainment consisted of Dr. W. L. Neville, Dr. V. R. Hay, Dr. M. A. Wagner, Dr. Virgil Parent and Dr. A. C. Adams.

The program committee included Dr. J. R. Tillotson, Dr. C. L. Steer and Dr. Alan D. Knisely. All persons appearing on the program were Lima physicians and surgeons.

The following is the complete program of the clinic: Dr. E. D. Sinks, "elvic Infection"; Dr. H. S. Noble, "Diverticulum of Esophagus"; Dr. R. A. Buchanan, "Cholecystectomy"; Dr. T. R. Thomas, "Hysterectomy-Herntotomy"; Dr. G. R. Clayton, "Cataract Extraction"; Dr. T. R. Terwilliger, "Necrosis of Tibia," and "Chronic Endometritis"; Dr. Oliver S. Steiner, "Demonstrating Series of Cases of Industrial Surgery"; Dr. A. C. Adams, "Pyosalpinx"; Dr. A. F. Gasinger, "Amputation of the Breast and Post Operative Hernia"; Dr. G. R. Clayton, "Four Tonsillectomies and Ether and Gas Anaesthesia"; Dr. E. C. Yinglin, "Two Tonsillectomies and Ether and Gas Anaesthesia"; Dr. Alan Knisely, "Tonsillectomy and Local Anaesthesia"; Dr. Virgil Parent, "History, Dressing and Prognosis of Mastoid"; Dr. Walte Nobel, "Tonsilrlectomy"; D. M. A. Wagner, "Demonstrations of Five Cases Streptoccio Infection of Hand"; Dr. F. G. Stueber, "Demonstrating Trachoma"; Dr. A. C. Adams, "Demonstrating Dilation of Stomach"; Dr. C. D. Gamble, "Urethral Stricture Following Gangrene of Scrotum;" Dr. C. H. Clark, "Mental Diseases. With Care Demonstration"; Dr. J. W. Diamond "Dental Infection"; Dr. P. I. Tussing, "Tuberculosis, with care Demonstration"; Dr. J. R. Tillitson, "Demonstrating Osteomyelitis and Infantile Paralysis"; Dr. J. R. Johnson, "Treatment of Social Disease"; Dr. E. J. Curtiss, "Ether Anaesthesia"; Dr. W. H. Parent, "Modern Management of Obstetrics"; Dr. H. S. Noble "Endochriuology"; Howard F. Webb, B. S., showing "Two Gastro-Intestinal X-Rays."

The paper by Dr. Johnson on "Treatment of Social Disease was read recently at the meeting of the Allen-co Medical society and by request was given before the clinic Tuesday.

AUTO CLUB PLANS FOR FUTURE

Board Trustees Enlarged; Quarters at Argonne Hotel

Trustees for the coming year were elected Monday evening by the Lima Automobile club, at their annual banquet at the Elks home. Formerly there have been seven members of the board, because of activities contemplated and the increasing membership the number has been raised to nine.

Trustees reelected are: Frank Colucci, O. L. DeWeese, Joe C. Hartline, E. T. Lippincott, T. G. Harris and L. J. Hoffman. The three elected for the first time are: Carl Rederson, Glen C. Webb and G. C. Jones, of near Gomer.

Delegations were present from Columbus Grove, Waynesfield, Spencerville, Gomer, Lafayette and West Newton. Representatives from each of these towns spoke on automobile topics. The principal address was given by Gene Lippincott. There were approximately 150 members present and it was said to be one of the best annual meetings ever held.

Activities for the new year are expected to be greater than ever before. With the establishing of permanent hearquarters in the new Hotel Argonne, as soon as it is completed, it is expected that the Club will take its place along with the Clubs in other cities who maintain offices in or near the larger hotels and render service not only to their own members, but also to those of other clubs who are passing thru the city. Altho the local club has been organized for six years this is the first time they have been able to seriously plan to assume this work.

FORUM 'SCOOPED', JOHNSON HOLDS

Notes Pass Between C. C. Manager and McClain

Diplomatic notes of a nature to show that there was some feeling on both sides passed between J. Kennard Johnson, manager of the Lima Chamber of Commerce, and Elmer McClain, service director of the city, Tuesday.

Johnson addressed what McClain declared was a sarcastic note to McClain concerning the giving out for publication of facts on the preliminary report of engineers for the proposed intercepting sewer system and the sewage disposal plant Saturday.

Johnson was not pleased with the action of McClain in giving out the details for publication in local newspapers Sunday, inasmuch as the Chamber of Commerce had arranged to have a representative of the engineering concern speak before the chamber forum meeting on the subject Friday evening. He takes the position that the forum was "scooped" by McClain.

The service director replied to the note over the telephone Tuesday morning, especially to the portion in which Johnson referred to his direction by the forum committee to "thank" McClain for his "cooperation."

McClain is said to have told the chamber manager that he had not been asked to cooperate with the civic body in the matter.

McClain was preparing letters to go to each member of the forum committee Tuesday.

STRIKERS SPLIT BY HUMAN FACTOR

British Labor Party Head Gives Views on Situation

CLASH NOT NEAR THE END

Mine Workers Won't Surrender, He Declares

LONDON — (By United Press)— The bolt of the triple alliance does not fortell an early conclusion of the British mine strike.

The British industrial situation is still far from settlement. The miners are determined they "may as well starve and play, as well as starve and work."

These opinions were advanced today by J. R. Clynes, chairman of the British labor party in an article written especially for the United Press.

(BY J. R. CLYNES)

LONDON — The factor which caused the threatened strike of transport workers to break down is the same which caused miners to stop work — the human factor. The personalities lying behind such bald terms as the "big three" and "triple alliance" are every bit as human as the wives of the men they lead and in industrial as well as other warfare, human considerations determine movements and shape results.

RESOLVE SHAKEN

The human factor forced its way thru all stages of this dispute and finally shook the resolve of the men who only an hour before were cemented in what seemed to be an unbreakable bond of union.

And so while the coal miners, stranded and facing the issue alone, stand amazed at the suddenness of the debacle, Britain basks after the perils of a nightmare have passed.

The miners conference next Friday will be dominated by human considerations. The men constituting the conference will come from areas where masses of men are saying:

"We might as well starve and play, as starve and work."

Neither the government, nor the people should mistake the failure to extend the strike as a sign of an early settlement.

The miners' leaders have a well-deserved reputation for fighting tough battles. The miners' working conditions entitle them to better pay than pre-war wages.

PRINCIPLE OF POOL

No person of responsibility has yet defended the proposed reductions which are intolerable.

The country would suffer more if it insisted upon these reductions than by accepting peacefully the miners' leaders' plan which would bear some relation to the diminishing cost of living.

The plan involves the principle of a pool, which would make only a slight call on the public purse. It is merely a makeshift.

Permanent state subsidies are unsound and in the end most harmful. The miners are not the country's enemies.

The public mind will certainly see that monstrous wage reductions with which the miners are threatened, must be averted, and means found thru immediate government action to hasten settlement of the trouble which could have been avoided, if in a period of panic, legislation had not been forced thru to throw the coal trade on its own resources months before it was able to face that condition.

Reduce Those Dangerous Swollen Veins

Physicians are prescribing and hospitals are using a new and harmless, yet very powerful germicide that not only causes enlarged or varicose veins and bunches to become normal, but also reduces goiter, enlarged glands and veins.

Ask any first class druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) and refuse to accept anything in its place. It is such a highly concentrated preparation that two ounces lasts a long time and furthermore if this wonderful discovery does not produce the results anticipated, you can have the price refunded.

It is not wise for anyone to allow swollen veins to keep on enlarging. Often they burst and cause weeks of pain, suffering and los of employment. Start the Emerald Oil treatment as directions advise and improvement will begin at once. Generous sample on receipt of 15 cents, silver or stamps. International Laboratories, Rochester, N. Y. Your druggist or Hunter's 2 Drug Stores, Thompson Drug Store, Interurban Drug Store, Public Drug Store can supply you.—Adv.

Wrinkles Coming?

Here's the Answer

The skin can be brought back to its original plumpness and vigor by the following formula. An astonishing result is the quick disappearance of wrinkles, little and big, crows' feet, and lines of age. It is simple and can be prepared, in a few moments, by adding to half a pint of water one tablespoonful of glycerine and two ounces of eptol; obtained from your druggist. This takes years from your appearance, and is always sure and positive in its work if you will apply it liberally, every day.

And If the Hair Is Thinning

Strengthening and enlarging the roots of the hair is one of the real secrets of forcing hair to grow, something which has heretofore not been fully realized. Merely stimulating the surface tissue of the scalp will not stimulate the hair growth to the extent desired. By the new method just mentioned hair can be forced to grow several inches a month. Hair will stop falling as if by magic. The new vigor of the hair will be quickly noticed, and all bald spots will be soon entirely filled out with new sprouts. This can all be easily obtained by the simple use of betaquinol, which can be secured at any drug store in the original one-ounce package. This can be mixed at home with a half pint of bay rum and a half pint of water, or with witch hazel, if you prefer. It contains no oil whatever.

To Cleanse Hair and Scalp

As to head-wash, you are advised against using soap or the many shampoos sold, because of the alkali they contain. This dries up hair secretions. Get a package of eggol at the drug store and dissolve a teaspoonful of it in half a cup of water. You can get enough eggol for twenty-five cents for a dozen or more head-washes. It is magic in cleansing hair and scalp and aids wonderfully in making hair grow.

GREENSBURG MACHINIST DROPS A THOUSAND DOLLARS EASY

Spent His Money Uselessly Trying Different Remedies to Rid Himself of Digestive Troubles, But Had No Success Until He Tried Nerv-Worth, and This Soon Ended Indigestion.

"I have spent at least a thousand dollars in an endeavor to rid myself of indigestion and stomach trouble, which I have had for 20 years, but got no results. My stomach and digestion, together with extreme nervousness, caused me to lose much valuable time. For the last 11 years I have been a machinist foreman of the Kelly-Jones Co., of Greensburg, and my time was worth money. I was compelled to lay off 10 weeks not long ago. Doctors said they could only give me temporary relief. Finally I saw Nerv-Worth advertised, and determined to try it, and I am glad to say that now after using only part of a bottle, I am no longer troubled with indigestion or nervousness, and I have gained in weight instead of losing weight, as formerly. I can eat anything I want when I want it, and it thoroughly agrees with me. I most cheerfully recommend Nerv-Worth to all, for it has done more than the makers claimed for it." Thus writes D. F. Smith, who resides at 122 N. Maple Ave., Greensburg, Pa. You will find that if you suffer as Mr. Smith suffered, Nerv-Worth will quickly give you health. It will aid and benefit your whole digestive system, relieve your nervous condition, and tone and invigorate you throughout. If it doesn't benefit you after you have taken your first bottle, your money will be refunded. Sold on a money-back guaranteed by Hunter's Drug Stores, Lima; C. M. Young, Van Wert; Gasson's Drug Store and Lentz Drug Store, Kenton, O.; Powell's Pharmacy, Bellefontaine; Minsell, Defiance.—Adv.

GERMANY MUST PAY

THAT the nations who participated in the war against the Central Powers are united in a determination that the nation responsible for the war must pay to the limit of her ability is evidenced by the note sent by the government of the United States to Germany.

There was manifest in the inner circles of Germany a disposition to think that the United States would step in to prevent the allies from exacting the last mark in the way of reparation. This has been dispelled from the German mind. The American note expressed clearly the overwhelming sentiment of the people of this country. They have no illusions concerning the country that set fire to the world in August of 1914 and there is nothing in the way of explanation or evidence that will convince them to the contrary.

The loud and frequent boasts of the German army as to what it would do to the remainder of the world when it got ready to fight and the popularity of the toast, "The Day," render explanations unnecessary. Anything brought forward at this late day to make it appear that the kaiser was forced into the war will be regarded as manufactured for the occasion.

Germany cannot hope to escape without paying to the limit of her ability. If no other reason prevailed sufficient warrant for this determination would be found by the allies in the terms Germany proposed to inflict on her enemies when she thought herself a certain winner. Disillusionment has also come to those misguided people in this country who conceived the notion that in the final analysis the United States would stand as the friend of Germany to the extent of aiding her to escape payment for the damage that was wrought as a result of the people of that country hearkening to the boasts of a war mad ruler.

WILL THE KAISER RETURN?

EXPRESSION of the sentiment, so often heard from so many persons since the close of the world war, that eventually the Kaiser will return to his own in Germany, appears now to be not altogether outside the range of possibility. In fact, there is a well-fined movement on the part of a certain contingent of the people of Germany themselves to make it possible for the Hohenzollern to again enthrone himself as the head of the government.

Despite the fact that Wilhelm, like a craven coward when his country was facing defeat, ran away from the consequences of his stupidity and his greed for power and sought asylum in a neutral country such a short time ago, already sentiment is being created among the bewildered German people for his return and recognition as a Moses to lead them out of their sea of troubles.

Strange as it may seem, the first outspoken sentiment for a return to kaiserism and a monarchial form of government comes from none other than Grand Admiral VonTirpitz, "father of ruthless submarine warfare," as expressed by him in a letter to the National League of German Officers. In the dark days at the close of the war, when Germany was vanquished but not beaten, subdued but not disintegrated, such a suggestion would have aroused a storm of protest sweeping from one end of the land to the other.

But with passing time and as Germany has been floundering about, endeavoring to find herself under the new order of things, with contending factions and a lack of national unity, men of the Tirpitz stripe see a favorable opportunity for the recall of the nation's former ruler. Apathetically the pronouncement of the ruthless one is now received. It is not beyond the range of possibility that the Kaiser would actually find a welcome awaiting him in Germany. Should the allied nations permit such a thing to occur it would only be an invitation for the eventual recurrence of conditions that led up to the outbreak of a world holocaust in the fall of 1914.

Under no circumstances should Germany be permitted to again elevate to power the Hohenzollern.

TRADE WITH RUSSIA

SUCCESS of any plan for the resumption of trade with Russia, by any country and on whatsoever basis, is conditioned upon the realization of various representations which have been made by the soviet government. If the Russians have put their government on a sane basis, if the government represents a majority of the people and is willing to live up to its obligations, there is no question but that the United States, or any other country now inactive in that great potential market, would proceed with negotiations for reestablishing trade relations. Without the fulfillment of these conditions, Russia's foreign commerce is doomed to prolonged stagnation.

In replying negatively to the recent soviet proposals, Secretary Hughes declared this country's sympathetic attitude toward the plight of the Russian people and has left the whole question open to further negotiations. He has clearly expressed this country's desire "to have convincing evidence" of the consummation of any contemplated changes in the economic system of Russia, and at the same time has emphasized that "until this evidence is supplied this government is unable to perceive that there is any proper basis for considering trade relations." The conditions set forth in the reply are in the best interest of the Russian people and if the appeal could be disseminated among the mass of those whom the bolshevist government claims to represent, there would be a far greater prospect for getting at the root of the present causes of impoverishment.

Russia's outstanding need today is production and this need cannot be met to any appreciable extent under a government which repudiates its contracts, the right to private property and the rights of labor. Failure of the removal of an embargo to bring about any considerable exchange of goods not only served to demonstrate the insufficiency of production under the bolshevist economic system, but has destroyed one of bolshevism's most formidable means for foreign propaganda. The real blockade against trade has been the failure of the Russians to produce anything except gold and platinum with which to trade.

Russian trade question remains more political than economic and only diplomatic valuations can be placed on trade agreements already in effect or now under negotiation.

THE PEACE DOVES ARE HAVING A HARD TIME WITH THEIR NEST-BUILDING

JUST FOLKS—BY EDGAR A. GUEST

THE LUCKLESS FISHERMAN

They laughed when I came home last night
And said I didn't get a bite.
They snickered an' they joked at me,
And all the fellows asked to see
The ones I'd caught. 'Oho!" said they,
'He's been out fishing all this day
An' hasn't caught a single thing,
He never got a fish to string."

They laughed at me, but all their jeers
Traveled no further than my ears.
'Twas true I'd fished all day without
Snaring a single speckled trout,
But what of that? I'd had a day
That I could loaf and dream away,
I'd chummed with birds and friendly trees
And been as care-free as the breeze.

I'd rested wheresoe'er I willed,
To me the hum of trade was stilled,
I'd let my thoughts go wandering far
To where life's happier glories are;
I'd whistled like a boy once more,
And even stretched full length on shore
To watch the white clouds sail the blue,
The very way I used to do.

They laughed when I come home at night
And said I didn't get a bite
They seemed to think my luck was bad.
They couldn't guess the fun I'd had
And couldn't know that all that day
I'd been a free man, blithe and gay,
And though of fish I'd landed none
I'd caught the joys for which I'd gone.

WHAT THE STARS PREDICT

This a doubtful day.

Under this rule of the stars editors and publishers should prosper, and notable honors will be conferred upon one of them.

Those engaged in advertising or publicity work should be very successful in the near future.

During the summer there will be much discussion of industrial problems, which may result in local difficulties.

The stars indicate that there may be an assassination in Russia that will influence the affairs of the world.

Persons whose birthday this is, may expect an unsettled but very prosperous year.

Children born today may be careless and unwilling to settle down, but will be pertinacious, and so successful, if they can be interested in their work.

YOUR NAME

KEITH

By PHILIP FRANCIS NOWLAN

RACIAL ORIGIN—Scottish.

SOURCE—A locality.

There has been some controversy over the origin of this clan name of the Highlands, some claiming that it was originally derived from the name of a chieftain, and others that the clan took its name from a place name. The evidence appears to support the latter view.

The tradition is that the founder of the clan came from Germany at the time of the Emperor Otho. However that may be there is historical record that King Malcolm II of Scotland conferred a barony on one Robert de Keith for his victory overy the Danish invader Camus, in a battle fought at Barry, near Dundee.

The Keiths were not a full-fledged clan, however, but rather a sept of the Clan MacPherson, which later became allied with the Clan Sutherland also, thru marriage. The Gaelic appellation of the clan is "Clann Cai."

The name Keith is apparently derived from the territory of that name, so-called from the Gaelic "gaoth" (pronounced "geeth"), and meaning "wind." This supposition is borne out by the fact that the old village and church were called "Arkeith" ("Ardgaoth"), which would mean "highwind," and as a matter of fact high winds are a peculiarity of the district.

NEURASTHENIA—NERVE STARVATION

A Disease of the Down Hearted—Practical advice on what to do.

Many a man is broken down and discouraged without having any actual disease in his organs and tissues—he has lost his grip, feels weak and nervous and everything look dark. He is sufferin from the great American disease—Neurasthenia or nerve starvation due to over work, worry, continual hurry and nervous strain. The longer this continues the more certainly will it end in real disease of his organs, nerves or his mind.

Such a man should live on simple foods, eat plenty of cooked fruit and green vegetables, sleep nine hours at night if he can an hour in the afternoon and find his starving nerves and weak thin blood, with a good nerve and blood food like Nuxated Iron Nuxated Iron contains a product brought to the attention of the French Academy of Medicine by the celebrated Doctor Robin, who hypodermits the principal chemical constituent of active living nerve force, it also contains genuine organic iron like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples.

Nuxated Iron may therefore be said to be a real nerve and blood food since it supplies the principal ingredients demanded by your nerves and blood to give you strength, energy, force and endurance. It often increases the bodily and mental vigor of weak, worn out, downhearted, and nervous folks in two weeks' time. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturers if it does not produce perfectly satisfactory results. For sale by all druggists.—Adv.

MISS LIMA: "Telephone connections have been opened with Cuba, but what's the use? You can't get anything by telephone."

TODAY'S HEALTH HINTS—BY DR. WM. BRADY

LIME

The average man has or should have about three pounds of calcium or lime in him, about one-fiftieth of the body weight.

Altho laymen often assume that they are getting too much lime in drinking water or otherwise and that this may favor hardening of the arteries, there is no basis for such belief. On the contrary, there is good reason to think that as Professor H. C. Sherman of Columbia University says in his book (Chemistry of Food and Nutrition) "the ordinary mixed diet of North Americans and Europeans, at least among dwellers in cities and towns, is probably more often deficient in calcium than in any other chemical element."

Among foods of animal origin fresh milk, buttermilk, skim milk, and curdled milk (cottage cheese) is about the only one which can be said to be rich in lime content. By the way, it is probable that actual benefit derived from a notorious highbrow patent medicine "nerve tonic" of whose efficacy ignoramus college professors and mossback doctors freely testify, and which is practically what Sam Hop Adams called glorified cottage cheese, is attributable to the lime-deprivation from which the testimonial writers suffer.

Vegetable foods furnish more lime than animal foods. The marked improvement in the nutrition of infants after the addition of small daily amounts of green or fresh vegetables such as spinach, carrots, orange juice, oatmeal, turnips, prune juice (all the solids well cooked and strained thru a sieve until the child cuts teeth), may be due to the more adequate filling of the growing child's need for calcium for bone, tooth and muscle building.

Professor Sherman has suggested the addition of powdered calcium carbonate (prepared chalk) to the salt in the salt cellar, equal quantities of each, as a means of supplying the calcium deficiency of the average dietary.

Our habit of denaturizing and otherwise maltreating foods which should furnish calcium along with other important factors—the food purveyors insist that this is a desirable "purification"—goes far to account for our annual five hundred million dollar expenditure for medicines in America. Bread in this country is a counterfeit of the staff of life. We discard in the milling the most essential and healthful portions of the wheat, in our insane desire to have a dead white flour. Calcium is one of the elements removed from the wheat in milling, iron is another; the vitamins of the wheat are another; the natural laxative and digestive stimulus, bran is another. The result is fit food for a mollycoddle, and a great boon for the nostrum maker.

Some one sent me a sample of his particular brand of whole wheat—canned! By golly, that was the limit! One can purchase whole wheat from any farmer who raises wheat, cook it two to three hours, and enjoy a toothsome, wholesome, natural cereal and natural laxative combined. Yet this manufacturer cans the wheat and presents it canned and "prepared" and doctored with and that addition. Does the public really demand that sort of thing?

NEW CONCEPTION OF "THE DEVIL" IS PRESENTED

George Arliss Makes His Debut in Movies in the Play From the Stage

North Bros. Stock Co. Strong in Presentation of "The Other Wife"

(By ESHER WAGNER.)

GEORGE ARLISS makes his movie debut in "The Devil." This is the play in which he first won wide attention on the stage. The play and the movie are chiefly interesting for the success with which he realizes the appearance of the familiar, old-fashioned, material devil as an active force in ordinary human affairs—the personification of evil.

Arliss is aided by a cast of features which easily is made similar to the familiar Mephistopheles of Marlowe's "Dr. Faustus," and of Goethe's "Faust."

THE STORY

The story itself is of moderate interest, being an ordinary stage or movie tale of an artist, his model, his friend and his friend's wife. These are puppets whom the devil has no trouble in getting into difficulty, chiefly thru misunderstandings. The idea seems to be that the devil generally is able to overcome truth, but is made powerless when confronted by symbols of Christianity.

THE MORAL

The effort of the author to make this fable stand as a warning against false friends is not very impressive. It is too much like a fortune teller's warning. "I see a dark man. He means you harm. Beware of him."

The picture is well directed and effectively photographed. It comes to Lima soon.

"The Other Wife"

THE third offering of the North Bros. Stock Co., "The Other Wife," being presented at the Orpheum theatre today and all this week, is a splendid dramatic offering, with only a few touches of humor here and there. The plot is finely worked out and its element of mystery is sustained until the final scene.

The story, briefly, concerns a prosperous lawyer, who with his wife and daughter, lives a quiet, happy life; that is, it was quiet and happy until the "other woman" appears, who turns out to be his first wife, whom he believed dead. To save his present wife from disgrace, the lawyer murders the woman.

An innocent man is about to be condemned for the crime and at the last moment, the great lawyer is called in for the defense. And thru his ardent plea for the man's life, the suspect is freed.

It is in the role of the lawyer that Charles Richards is remarkable. His work in the first two acts of the drama is smooth and intelligent, but he reaches splendid heights when, as counsel for the defense, he pleads for the condemned man's life. And to stand up there, with a spot light on one's face, pleading and entreating before an imaginary jury out in the wings and make it seem real, one has to be an actor!

The other members of the company do well in their respective parts. The one setting for the play is cosy and home-like. Miss Besse Dainty, as the wife, has a rather mature part to portray, but does her usual good work.

"The Other Wife" is another of the North stock productions to be seen and appreciated.

Faurot—"The Passing Show"

IT will be a long time before local theatre-goers will have the opportunity of seeing as pretentious and altogether pleasing and as large a musical spectacle as the one scheduled for the Faurot on next Saturday afternoon and night, if we are to believe advance reports for this attraction. It is none other than the New York Winter Garden's "Passing Show," twenty-fifth big extravaganza to be presented by the famed New York Winter Garden under the guidance of the Messrs. Lee and J. J. Shubert.

The "Passing Show" is described as a three-hundred-thousand dollar production, and judging from the magnitude of its fifteen scenes and the gorgeousness of its thousands of marvelous costumes, this seems to be no exaggeration. Fully 125 people are required to adequately present this wonderful entertainment. Of this number about seventy-five are choristers. And in this case size does not interfere with quality, for, according to reports, never in the history of musical productions has a chorus of such rare beauty, youth and talent been gathered together in one company. It is the very pick of the New York Winter Garden rosebud girls. Never before in the history of local theatricals has an attraction of this magnitude visited this city. Owing to the enormous size of production and length of performance, curtain rises at 2 and 8 sharp.

Have you a little BUNTY in your home—one of those sweet faced, high-strung, fast steppers, who generally gets what she wants?

If you have or have not, it will be none the less interesting to see what the lass in this comedy gets away with. There's many a laugh and some tense situations in this real photo - entertainment. Other good ones on the bill, of course.

NEWS NOTES FROM MOVIELAND

There are no discoveries which please us quite so much as the discovery of new talent or new faces, pretty ones of course, for the screen. The astronomers are not the only ones who know a new star when they see one. Film fans and directors are quite as keen to discover stars. Miss May Collins is one of the prettiest discoveries made in some time.

She will soon be seen in the Goldwyn picture, "Look Before You Leap," and she is surely worth looking at. It has been said that it is only her second picture, but she has had experience on the stage, having played in "At 9:45," "She Would and She Did," and several other Broadway successes.

Miss Collins has brown hair and gray eyes.

Bulletin.

As we go to press this gossip about Miss Collins reaches our desk from Los Angeles:

"Charlie Chaplin has picked another wife, according to well authenticated rumors going the rounds at Hollywood. She is May Collins, seventeen, star of Broadway and of the screen.

"Neither Chaplin nor Miss Collins would deny or affirm the report today.

"I have heard that rumors are going the rounds that Mr. Chaplin and I are to be married,' Miss Collins said. 'As a matter of fact we have discussed these reports, but any statement should come from him, I think.'

May Collins

"Charlie himself said he preferred 'not to discuss private affairs.'"

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or even just a little hard of hearing or have head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ½ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone losing hearing or who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Adv.

ILL-STARRED QUEENS, BARRED FROM OWN REALMS, HAVE DIED IN SORROW

Demoted Monarchs, Like Prophets, Without Honor In Their Own Country

(By MARGERY REX.)

NEW YORK —(Special.) From life in royal ermine to death in lonely exile.

Fate of more than one empress, the destiny of many an ill-starred queen, whose gilded crown came to be the crater of a political volcano.

To escape the rancor of a country seething with vengeance, numerous feminine majesties have been forced to flee their thrones and seek peace in far off banishment.

Amid memories of better days they die.

So died Auguste Victoria, former German Empress, in Doorn, Holland, whither she and the ex-Kaiser fled, following the outcome of the World War, peace came at last to the woman who had held power in Potsdam, and who, at her life's end, feared assassination for herself and kin, a fate similar to that which befell the Czar and his family.

Exile for the former Kaiserin did not bring peace, as it has to other royal refugees.

Uncertainty, deadly suspense and surrender to morbid fears aged the former Empress even more rapidly than her advanced years and bodily frailty would warrant. Her former life, tho by no means a happy one, must have made the existence in Holland miserable by contrast.

The eldest daughter of Duke Frederick of Schleswig-Holstein-Sonderburg-Augustenburg and the Princess Adelheid of Hohenlohe-Langenburg, the young German Princess met the man who was to court her, make her Empress of Germany and finally drag her with him to a wretched fate.

Popularity was never attained by the wife of the autocratic Kaiser, but she bore out the Teutonic conception of a good wife and mother presenting her lord with seven children, and never presuming to criticize his public policies.

EMPRESS EUGENIE'S FLIGHT

To another Empress exile meant rest. Her life had been a gay and happy one, if full of uncertainties—the lovely Eugenie once wife of Napoleon III. of France, who died as an exile in Spain last year.

A gypsy soothsayer once told the beautiful Mlle de Montijo, who was one day to rule France, that she would live to be nearly one hundred years old, but that peace would not come to her till nearly the end.

Daughter of a Spanish nobleman, Marie Eugenie de Montijo, born in 1826, grew to be a fascinating woman. She met Napoleon while he was a prisoner in Spain in 1851. Later, after their acquaintance had been renewed in France, Eugenie told her ardent wooer, the third Napoleon that the only road to her heart was by the way of the chapel.

Thus Eugenie, half Spanish, half Scotch, with an alleged strain of Irish blood, became Empress of France. She often acted as regent while her husband was away at his duties with the armies.

Seventeen years later Napoleon III was exiled. Her son, who was expected would regain the throne of France, was killed by cultus, while fighting with the British.

Sorrow shadowed the gay life of the volatile Eugenie, the queen who set fashions, whose clothes and jewels were copied at all European courts and gatherings, the queen who as a girl, had been banished from the Spanish Court for her coquetries and who vowed she would return, herself a monarch.

But Sedan was to fall in 1870. A crowd stormed the palace of Eugenie. With the help of an American dentist, Dr. Evans, and the Italian ambassador, the Empress fled to England, where she at last found peace.

Eugenie lived till she saw Germany beaten by France and the Allies, and Alsace Lorraine restored.

Eugenie died in Spain last Summer. She had been Queen of Fray and Queen of Beauty, and died as Europe's Queen of Sorrows, in her native land where she had gone for a visit.

QUEEN OF SWEDEN'S EXILE

In the seventeenth century Queen Christina of Sweden, daughter of Gustavus Adolphus, became ruler in her eighteenth year. She was strong-willed and impetuous, and became known as "the Madcap Queen." Her Chancellor and Ministers urged a marriage with a cousin. Christina didn't fancy. Therefore she abdicated in his favor, left Stockholm in man's clothes and lived in various European capitals till her fortune was gone.

Christina made several attempts to regain the throne, but at last died an exile, in Rome in 1689.

In ancient days, too, Queens abdicated, centuries before our modern times in which a world war has made a throne least to be desired of seats.

Zenobia, Queen of Palmyra, wife of Odenathus, was an ancient Queen who saw her kingdom fall.

CZARINA'S FATE SADDEST OF ALL

But history preserves no more tragic figure in her pages than that of the late Czarina of Russia, exiled to bleak Siberia, and murdered with husband and children.

This horrid fate of the Russian royalties was the fear that darkened the last days of Auguste Victoria of Germany, who has just now found peace.

The Czarina was Princess Alice of Hesse, Queen Victoria's granddaughter. For years she worried about the possibility of the Czar being assassinated. Her nervous fears made her sensitive to sympathy. She gave heed to the teachings and aid of charlatans and their weird religious rites.

Her fears began to be justified when the Government was usurped by the Bolsheviki and the royal family banished to Siberia to live in Ekaterinburg, where they were shamefully treated by their captors.

The nervous Czarina's forebodings were realized on that morning of July, 1918, when her family was awakened and told to hurry downstairs.

The tragic story of the murder that followed is fresh in the public mind.

SOME CONCEIT IN THIS CASE

BY SUSIE SMART

Dear Miss Smart:

I AM in quite a trying situation. I am engaged to a young man and he loves me dearly. He is always good to me but every time we go any place all the men flirt with me. I am very good looking and everyone says I always make a striking appearance wherever I go. But it makes my fiance so mad and sometimes he suspects that I go with these men. How can I prove to him that I don't?

M. L. O.

MY DEAR GIRL, if you would prove your sincerity to your fiance, the best step for you is to put a stop to these silly attentions which seem to have such an effect upon you. Your letter and the fact that you are so positive of your looks is an indication that you are flattered by these frivilous flirtations. Try to be sensible and not take as a compliment that which is given any girl who will lower herself to accept it. You have only to look around and see that a girl need not necessarily be pretty and attractive to receive these attentions. Find the cause for this situation and remove it. There must be a reason for it and if you desire to prove your sincerity and love for your fiance it is your duty to solve the problem and correct it.

You say that you are very pretty and make a striking appearance. This being the case, you should be very careful in adding to it that there is nothing conspicuous in your dress. Wear styles which are simple, yet becoming. It is not wrong to use cosmetics if so use them sparingly, but avoid their use to a great extent. One simply cheapens herself and does not improve her looks.

* * *

Dear Miss Smart:

I am a married woman. My husband and I are separated and have by no means thought of going back to each other. Being a poor girl, I married to better things. This man I married was my parents' choice. I did not love him, but to keep peace I married him. We lived together only a few months until we parted and now I am alone again. As I do not have classy clothes like the rest of the young people I do not take well. I dress modestly and try to do things that a woman who is modest should do. Just because I am not like other girl friends of mine they do not care to have me go with them. They say that I am too slow and that I am not up with the styles. I do not know what to do. I am lonesome and often wish I were dead. I have met quite a few young men since I have separated from my husband but they are not kind. I would like to meet some one who would love me and love me alone. I have often thought of going away.

BROWN EYES

I am very, very sorry for you but I think that all you have to do is to master yourself and determine that you will be happy, despite the serious mistake you made in your life.

You made a mistake when you married this young man without loving him, simply to gratify your parents' wishes. It was very unfair to him and to you. It is always well to respect the wishes of one's parents but not in the case of marriage unless it is a reasonable request. It is a terrible thing for one to marry without love. Such a marriage is rarely successful. How could it be. Of course, the past is past. If you feel that you could love this man in time and make a success of your marriage it, is your sacred duty to try. You married for better and not for worse. It is now for you to accept what fate has thrust upon you.

As to the clothing proposition, I think you can correct that. Money and expensive clothes cannot altogether make one stylish and well dressed. Good taste and judgment in choosing one's wardrobe are also necessary assets. Do not feel that you cannot appear just as well dressed as your friends. In choosing clothes, think of quality and not quantity. You say that your friends think you are old fashioned in your dress. I think probably the fault lies wholly with you and that if you so desire you could do away with criticisms on their part. Read the various magazines. Splendid advice is given on the styles of clothes suited to the different types of persons and it will be very helpful to you. If you do not sew it would be well for you to take a few instructions in sewing; something that would take your mind off yourself.

THE GOLD GIRL

By JAMES B. HENDRYX

Patty had overhauled her father's photographic outfit and found it contained complete supplies for the development and printing of his own pictures, and having brought several rolls of films from town, she proceeded to amuse herself by photographing the more striking bits of scenery she encountered upon her daily rides.

It was mid-summer now, the sun shone hot and brassy from a cloudless sky and the buffalo grass was beginning to exchange its fresh greenness for a shade of dirty tan.

And it was upon one of these hot days, long past the noon hour, that Patty dismounted in a narrow valley near the head of a cold mountain stream and, affixing the hobbles to her horse's legs, spread her luncheon upon a clean white napkin in the shade of a stunted cottonwood.

As Patty chipped at the shell of a hard-boiled egg she glanced toward the horse, which had stopped grazing and stood facing down stream with ears nervously alert. A few moments later the soft rattle of bit-chains and the low shuffling of hoofs told her that a rider was approaching at a walk.

The horseman came suddenly into view a few yards distant, and the girl looked up into the black eyes of Monk Bethune.

"Well, well, my dear Miss Sinclair!" The quarter-breed's tone was one of glad surprise, as he dismounted and advanced hat in hand. "This is indeed an unexpected pleasure. La, la, la, the luck of it! Shall we say romance? Hot and saddle weary from a long ride, to come suddenly upon the fairest of ladies at luncheon alone in the most charming of little valleys. It is a situation to be dreamed of. And, am I not to be asked to share your repast?"

Patty laughed. The light whimsicality of the man's mood amused her. "Yes, you may consider yourself invited."

"You should have been a poet."

"God help the man who has no poetry in his soul—no imagination?" exclaimed Bethune, a trifle sententiously, thought the girl, as she resumed the chipping of her egg. "Imagination" the word hovered illusively in her brain—she had applied the word recently to someone—oh, yes, the man whose habit it was to search her cabin.

"Tell me," asked Patty, abruptly, "has Vil Holland imagination?"

"Imagination! My dear lady, Vil Holland is the veriest clod! Too lazy to do the honest work for which he is fitted, he roams the hills under the pretense of prospecting. He unconsciously lowered his voice, and continued: "Several ranchers have complained of losing horses, and only a few days ago up near the line, my good friend Corporal Downey, of the Mounted, told me that a number of American horses, with brands skilfully doctored, had been regularly making their appearance in Canada. It is an ugly suspicion, and I am making no open accusation, but—one may wonder."

The man finished his sandwich, dipped his fingers into the creek, wiped them upon his handkerchief and proceeding to roll a cigarette. "Speaking of Vil Holland, you believe he still follows you?"

"Yes."

"You do not fear him?"

"No."

"That is because you do not know him. I tell you he is a dangerous man!" Bethune puffed shortly at his cigarette, hurled it from him, and faced the girl with glowing eyes. "Ah, Miss Sinclair, why don't you end this uncertainty? Why do you continue every day to jeopardize your interests—yes, your very life——"

"Do you mean," interrupted the girl, "why don't I form a partnership with you?"

"A partnership! Ah no not a—and, yet—yes, a partnership. A partnership of life, and love, and happiness!" The man moved close, and the black eyes seemed, in the intensity of their gaze to devour her very soul. "There I have said it—the thing I have been wanting to say, yet have feared to say." Patty's lips moved, as if to speak, but the man forestalled the words with a gesture.

"Before you answer, let me tell you how, since you first came into the hills, I have lived in the shadow among men, and have never known the meaning of fear, have been harassed by a multitude of fears. From the moment of our first meeting I have loved you, and by all the saints I swear you are the only woman I have ever loved!"

Bethune had taken her hand as he talked and she had not withdrawn it from his palm. Swiftly he bent his head and pressed the brown hand to his lips. She felt his grip tighten as the burning kisses covered her hand—her wrist. She drew the hand away.

"But, why should you want to marry me?" she inquired, a puzzled frown wrinkling her forehead. "You hardly know me. You have not always lived in the hills. You have met many women."

"A man meets many women! He marries but one. You ask why I want to marry you. I cannot tell you why. Many times since we first met I have asked myself why, I, who have openly scoffed at the yoke, and boasted proudly of my freedom. I do not know why, unless it is that to me you are the embodiment of all womanhood—of all that is desirable and worthwhile, or maybe the reason is in the fact that while I am with you I am supremely happy, and while I am absent from you I am restless and unhappy—a prey to my fears. I suppose it all sums up in the reason—world-old, but ever new—because I love you." The man was upon his feet, now, bending toward her with arms outstretched.

The black eyes glowed, and he took a step toward her, but the girl drew away.

"Not now—not yet! Stop!" At the command Bethune recoiled slightly, and the arms that had been about to encircle the girl fell slowly to his sides. Patty had suddenly drawn herself erect and looked him eye for eye; and as she looked, from behind the soft glow of the velvet eyes, leaped a wolfish gleam—a glint of baffled rage, a flash of hate. In a moment it was gone and the man's lips smiled.

"Pardon," he said, "for the moment I forgot I have not the right." The voice had lost its intense timbre, and sounded dull, as if held under control only by a mighty effort of will. And in that moment a strange fear of him took possession of the girl, so that her own voice surprised her with its calm.

"I must be going, now."

Bethune bowed. "My way takes me within a short distance of your cabin; may I ride with you."

"Why, certainly. I should be glad to have you."

They rode in silence for a time, following down the course of a broad valley, and presently came out onto the trail. A rider approached them at a walk, the low-hung white cloud in his wake marking the course of the long, hot trail. Bethune scrutinized the man intently. "Jack Pierce" he announced. "He runs a little yak outfit, a few head of horses, and some cattle over on Big Porcupine." A moment later Bethune drew up and greeted the rider with a great show of cordiality. "Hello, Pierce, old hand! How's everything over on Porcupine?"

The rancher returned the greeting with a curt nod and a level stare. "Things on Porky's all right, I guess—so far."

"I hear old man Samuelson's sick?"

"Yes."

"How's he getting on?"

"Ain't heard. So long." He touched his horse with a quirt and the animal continued down the trail at a brisk trot.

"Surly devil," growled Bethune, as he gazed for a moment at the retreating horseman, and this time Patty was sure she detected the snake-like gleam in the black eyes. He dug his horse viciously with his spurs and jerked him in, dancing and fighting the bit. He laughed shortly. "These little ranchers—bah! They all hate me because I have made money. They never made any, and they never will, and they're jealous of my success. They never lose a chance to malign and injure me in every way possible—but I'll show them! Damn them; I'll show them."

The following morning the girl paused, coffee pot in hand, in the act of preparing breakfast, and listened. Distinct and clear above the sound of sizzling bacon, floated the words of an old ballad.

Hastening to the open door she peered down the valley. The song ceased, and presently from the cottonwood thicket emerged a horseand rider. The rider wore a roll-brimmed hat and brilliant yellow chaps, and he was mounted upon a fantastically spotted pinto. "It's—'The Bishop of All Outdoors'," she smiled, as she returned to the stove.

A hearty "Good morning" brought her once more to the door.

"Just in time for breakfast," she smiled up into the eyes of the man on the pinto.

"Breakfast! Bless you. I didn't stop for breakfast. I figured on breakfasting with my friend, The Villain, over across the ridge.'

"The Villain?"

"Vil Holland," laughed the man. "His name, I believe is, Villiers. I shortened it to Villain, and the natives hereabouts have bobbed it down to Vil.

"How is the sick man?" asked Patty. "The one you went to see, over on Big Porcupine, wasn't it?"

"Yes, old man Samuelson. Fine old fellow—Samuelson. I sure hope he's pull thru. Doc Mallory came while I was there, and he told me he's got a fighting chance, and a fighting chance is all that old fellow asks—even against pneumonia. He's a man!"

"I wonder if there is anything I could do?" asked the girl.

TAKE BEECHAM'S PILLS FOR CONSTIPATION

HER OWN CAREER

By PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

THE WOMAN IN THE CASE

As Gwenda was whirled up to the scene of the tragedy she tried in every way to steel herself against the coming shock. After all, things had turned out just as many of Fedya's friends had predicted they would, long ago. Natalie, poor creature, had done herself the greatest kindness possible, under the circumstances, tho true to her type she had again involved some woman in a scandal. And instinctively Gwenda's ready sympathies turned towards the unknown woman in the case. Now she blamed Fedya for his lightness where all women were concerned, and again she pitied him deeply for his inability to protect himself and his private life from the gaze of a curious public.

The taxi drew up suddenly, with a jerk, and she staggered out, half dazed, paid the man, and floundered up the steps of the house.

Once inside the studio, she found several grave-faced men standing about the lifeless form of Natalie Stepanoff, who with her clothes half torn from her lay in her last sleep on the couch in one corner of the room. One of the men motioned to Gwenda, the came up to her to inquire what her business was there.

In a few words she explained to his satisfaction, then turned to look for the woman. From an inner room she caught the sound of smothered sobs, and quickly realized that the involved one was within.

She walked over to the door and looked in. In a large chair, her face covered by her two arms, sat her cousin Fern, sobbing as if her heart would break.

Gwenda went over to the girl and lifted her into her arms, as she tried her best to soothe her, as well as to get an explanation for her presence in the studio at such a time.

Between the tears Fern explained to her that she had run over to Fedya's with some paints that he had called up to ask her for, and upon arriving there had run into the whole of the tragedy. She shuddered and gave a little scream as she recalled the awful sight of Natalie, swaying and drug-soaked, standing pointing the pistol, first at Fedya, then at herself, as she raved to the walls of his various infidelities. Then she told of the shot, of her aiming first at Fern, after shooting Fedya and the final horror of seeing her point the pistol at her own breast and fire.

Fern became hysterical as she told of all this, and several times she had to stop in the middle of it to quiet her shaking limbs.

"Now I am going to be involved in all this," she cried. "Fate simply means to ruin my life one way or another. I am perfectly innocent, so that she might ruin some one, anyone, as long as it was a woman."

"Nothing of the kind, my dear," answered Gwenda reassuringly. "There is nothing to be involved about, as far as you are concerned. The woman was notedly jealous and semi-insane. I shall explain all this in my story, and to these men outside. Now put on your hat and come with me."

This Letter Will Tell You How

"I suffered terribly every month, and was always tired and nervous, and had indigestion, and often could not do a thing. I was this way about two years, and had to stay home with my mother. I tried several medicines, then I found a book of yours, and mamma told me to try the Compound. So I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it certainly worked wonders with me. I have taken six bottles of it, and am still taking it when I feel the need of it. I have already recommended it to a number of working girls, who are taking it. I am working now, and stand up all day and feel fine. I am glad to say that Pinkham's medicine did a lot for me and for my mother, and we only wish we had taken it a long time before."—Rose Schoeff, 4876 Annunciation St., New Orleans, La.

POSTPONED GAME TO BE PLAYED

CHICAGO — The game between Pittsburg and Chicago National League clubs, postponed Sunday because of cold weather, will be played here tomorrow, an open date for both teams.

AMERICAN LEAGUERS HOT ON TRAIL OF BATTING CROWN

Struggles for the American League batting crown promises to be as interesting this year as the hot pennant race in prospect.

Joe Jackson, of course, will be missing from the list of contenders but the sticks of George Sisler, Tris Speaker, Eddie Collins, Babe Ruth, "Baby Doll" Jacobson and Ty Cobb will make enough noise.

Just in his prime, the versatile Sisler can not be counted as the favorite, but he will have some stiff opposition.

Tris Speaker, who chased the Brown first baseman all the way last season under the handicap of heavy managerial responsibilities, can be expected to do the same thing this year.

Then there is the ever-dangerous and always able Ty Cobb, who will try to eliminate Speaker in making good on two jobs.

Cobb has sipped from the cup of glory too long to sit back contented and watch some one else usurp his old honors.

Having done about everything possible in the way of home runs, Babe Ruth is also known to secret an ambition for the league leadership with the stick. If the Bambino should take the murder out of his swing, it is highly probable that he would be good for around .400—an exceedingly dangerous height for any sticker to go against.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

YESTERDAY'S HERO — George Sisler. The American League's champion hitter, banged a triple in the eighth inning and brought in the run that gave the Browns a 3 to 2 victory over the White Sox.

Luque's great pitching and sparkling work on the field enabled the Reds to beat the Cardinals 4 to 2. May was given the gate for disputing a decision.

Tyler was wild and gave the Pirates four runs, but the Cubs hammered three of Gibson's pitchers and won 7 to 4.

All other games postponed, rain, snow, etc.

FOOLISH SPORT STUFF

MORAN SCARED THEM STIFF.

Silent Charley Harvey, after reading the returns of the Moran-Beckett fight, said: "Moran licked that fellow with his smile. Beckett probably hit that red-headed lion on the chin with everything behind it and instead of seeing Moran fall, watched him smile. It took the heart out of the fellow.

It seems now that Moran not only took the heart out of Beckett, but out of every other big fellow in Europe.

Charles Francis is still trying to get Carpentier into the ring, but the latter finds a gate at every turn.

A writer in the London Globe has this to say:

"'Biff, bang, biff, and it would be all over,' said Francois Descamps when visualizing Carpentier's possible meeting with Frank Moran on the night the American knocked Beckett out in two rounds.

"He was talking about what Georges would do to Frank.

"Curiously enough, tho, Carpentier was challenged there and then by Moran's manager, and Major Wilson at once offered to put up a handsome purse and stage the fight. The Frenchman has not yet signed to meet Moran.

"Just think. Here is a man who believes he can walk up to another and beat him with three punches, and is offered a guarantee of $75,000 for doing it; yet he hangs back!

"If one regards sport as an affair of nationalities, nobody can accuse me of prejudice, for both boxers concerned are foreigners. I look on it from the common sense standpoint, and, regarding the facts from all angles, come to the conclusion that Carpentier fears Moran would beat him.

"I can say that, when negotiations for the match were first opened Descamps demanded a guarantee of $100,000 to cover Carpentier from possible loss in the event of Moran defeating him before he could meet Dempsey. As the cruiser-weight champion would not look at a purse which fell short of his desire, the offer was increased to his own figure.

"I know the styles, capabilities and weaknesses of both boxers intimately, but refrained from writing of those things before because I thought it might frighten the French champion out of a match which all sporting England desires.

"From the trend of events it would appear that Carpentier is equally wise, and so I need keep silent no longer. It is my fixed opinion that Moran would not take more than six, or at most eight rounds to knock him out."

MUNICIPAL BASEBALL COMMISSION TO BE PLANNED AT MEETING HERE FRIDAY

Plans for the creation of a municipal baseball commission will be rounded into shape Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at a meeting of boosters to be held in the directors' room at the Chamber of Commerce.

Those who will attend and the organizations they will represent, follows:

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
J. Kennard Johnson..George Bayly
KIWANIS CLUB
Jim Jolley.....Clyde Meyers
Jimmie Morton
ROTARY CLUB
M. L. Johnson.....E. Stolzenbach
LIONS' CLUB
Wm. Harman.....Dr. V. H. Hay
MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION
Charles A. Hiatt....Paul Crawford
ELKS' CLUB
Walt DeWeese.....J. T. Kaufman
Y. M. C. A.
S. C. Biddle.....Mr. Waller
LIMA BALL CLUB
Bernie Halloran.....Joe Callahan

The need of such a commission has been argued for several seasons, and the action of the organizing of such a body will undoubtedly be met with the whole hearted approval of baseball fans in Lima.

Work of the Municipal Baseball Commission will be to render fair and impartial verdicts in cases of disputes, and approve and disapprove the appearance of teams here.

The business men who have been named to shape plans for the selection of a commission are persons who are interested in clean sports, and who are capable of pushing the plans to a successful end.

CONSIST OF 5 MEN

It is probable that the proposed commission shall consist of five men. Just how they will be selected remains to be doped out at the meeting scheduled for next Friday afternoon.

Time for opening of the season here is fast approaching and it is necessary that the commission be elected not later than next week.

INTEREST RAMPANT

Since the announcement Sunday of the proposed commission in The Lima News, much interest has been created in sporting circles. Some fans had the opinion that it would be on the order of the boxing commission and be appointed by Mayor Burkhardt.

The commission will have the same jurisdiction as the baseball board, but will not be selected by any one city official.

It will be composed of business men who know the game, yet who are not in any way personally connected or obligated to any team that will appear in the field this year.

SOME HI SPOTS IN SPORT

Umpire Bill Brennan was talking before a game the other day.

"Well," he said, "I hate to think of it, but I guess I'll have to begin to think about getting rid of Betsy. I hat to part with her, because she's been with me for a long while—twelve or fifteen years, I should say. She was with me in the minor leagues, in the National league, the Federal league, down in the Southern league, and here we are again—Betsy and I—back in the major leagues. But she's almost thru, and I'll have to discard her soon.

Betsy is not a girl. Nor is she a dog or a horse. "She" is a heavy iron wire mask, designed by Bill and used by him thru all his ups and downs in baseball. But, as he says, it's almost thru, and soon it will have to be replaced. Bill must get a new mask, but when he does he'll look strange without Betsy.

* * *

Out on the coast, where he pitched before Detroit picked him up, Harvey Sutherland was known as a "lucky stiff." Batters said he "didn't have a thing in the world." They could never understand how he managed to win; they do not understand now.

Jim Bagby has often been called the luckiest pitcher in baseball. Many players in the American league have ever been puzzled how Jim gets away with it.

Bagby has been successful, and Sutherland undoubtedly will be, for the one and same reason, and what will help them to major league achievements is the fact that most of their opponents figure them "lucky stiffs" and let it go at that.

Sutherland knows how to pitch. "The only time I am ever really happy is when I'm out there in the box working," he says, and any man that feels that way about his job is likely to give it a great deal of patient and thoro study and should, under these conditions, make a success of it.

Sutherland should go big in the American league, not because of what he has, but because of the way he uses it. As far as physical ability is concerned his chief stock in trade is a "screw" ball, a delivery where the ball spins away from the plate and batter. It is a tantalizing delivery, difficult to hit. But, smart batsmen would soon solve his delivery and out would go Sutherland if he depended on just that.

Control and knowing where to put the ball is what Sutherland relies upon. That and an unusual pitching motion. He studies the batsman, discovers his weakness and pitches to it, or crosses him by pitching to his strong point when he least expects it. Detroit players who have batted against Sutherland in batting practice say that he has more than Bagby, but works in much the same way.

Style of delivery is also in Sutherland's favor. He has a full motion, like the late Addie Joss. He never saw either Joss or Bagby pitch, but every major leaguer that has watched Sutherland comments on the similarity.

For several years Sutherland worked out in the far west. He has pitched in the rough spots of what is left of the "wild and woolly." He has faced the roughest baseball crowds that ever gathered.

As a schoolboy Sutherland gave promise of developing into a good athlete. In his first year in high school he was pole vaulting 12 feet 1 inch and going great in the high jump. He had planned to enter the University of Montana, but a bad financial break at home kept him on his father's ranch. Montana missing a crack athlete and good pitcher.

"They say I'm lucky," says Sutherland. "I like to hear them say it. I hope they'll keep it up. The luckiest thing about me is the fact that they think I am lucky."

Which shows that the young right hander is quite clever.

DOUG FAIRBANKS IS FOR CHAMPION

LOS ANGELES, Calif. — Doug Fairbanks: "Dempsey should beat Carpentier, but he'll know he's been in a fight. It will be a clever boxer against a hard hitter.

There is no question that Carpentier can hit, but the question is, can he hit a vital spot often enough to weaken Dempsey. I believe that Dempsey will wear down the Frenchman in the end. It will not be a walkaway for the champion, and he should take it seriously."

PLAYER MUST TRAIN FOR 2 WEEKS

CHICAGO — Dave Robertson, outfielder who was recently suspended by the Cubs when he refused to report for spring practice, must train two weeks somewhere, before he can be reinstated and join the club.

President William Vech made this announcement today, after a conference with Robertson, who came from his home in Virginia.

DETROIT AND INDIANS TO TAKE FIELD

DETROIT, Mich — Indications this morning were that the Cleveland and Detroit clubs would be able to open the second baseball series here this afternoon, although the playing field still was fringed with patches of snow and the diamond was still heavy. But for the warm sunshine yesterday, play would have been impossible for several days.

With the two days' rest, Cobb was expected to start Leonard against the Indians and Mails was considered Speaker's probable choice.

FOUNDATION LAID FOR PROSPERITY

Labor in State of Mind to Bear Share of Burden

FOOD PRICES ARE LOWER

Compilation Shows Appreciable Decline During Last Week

(BY B. C. FORBES)

NEW YORK — (Special) — Encouraging development follows encouraging development in quick succession

Solid foundations are being laid for returning activity and prosperity

* * *

Labor events are the most inspiring of all, since they clearly indicate that even the most powerful unions now recognize that they cannot hope to escape a fair share of the readjustment now under way.

The collapse of the threatened general strike in Britain was exactly in line with intelligent expectations formed on knowledge of the state of mind of the rank and file of British workmen

Acceptance, without protest, of the abrogation of the railway National working agreement by our own railway employes signifies that they are in a more reasonable and conciliatory frame of mind than they were when in command during the war crisis The labor boards "sixteen principles" are interpreted as fair by both sides

We are justified, therefore, in looking forward with some confidence to peacable readjustment of railway wages by and by.

Therefore, modification of railway freight schedules will be in order

In short, the whole railroad outlook con now be faced with hopefulness.

* * *

At last the United States Steel Corporation's leading directors decided that Judge Gary should announce price reductions. Altho the cuts made, were not quite as deep as had been expected large users of steel expressed themselves as satisfied, so that we may logically look for at least some increase in steel operations immediately.

I understand that wage and working-hour changes are contemplated by the steel corporation, but that no definite action may be taken for a month or six weeks.

Incidentally, one immediate effect of the cut in steel products was an announcement by the largest manufacturers of agricultural machinery that their prices for next season would be reduced

* * *

Some easing of the burden imposed upon commercial borrowers by banks has been strongly urged in these articles Altho nothing spectacular has developed, the strongest borrowers are not now compelled to pay 7 per cent or even 7 3-4 per cent. A quotation of 7 1-2 per cent is now occasionally recorded, and as a matter of fact, transactions are understood to be going quietly at still lower rates in certain cases.

Also, the Boston Federal Reserve Bank's lowering of its re-discount rates from 7 to 6 per cent. is to be regarded as significant It indicates that the supreme banking powers are disposed to adopt a reasonable course towards business, and that they are now actuated by other motives than the obession to "force liquidation" regardless of the depression and distress thereby inflicted.

* * *

Underlying the relapse which overtook business last year and the dullness which has prevailed since, has been a divergence of opinion between sellers and buyers, as to what constituted reasonable prices. Economists explain that the "buyers' strike" was brought about by actual inability of consumers to pay the excessive prices demanded, and not only dissatisfaction over the prices claimed

Happily, the general price level has now moved quite a distance towards meeting both the inclination and the ability of consumers to buy.

Take food. A trustworthy compilation shows that wholesale prices last week declined 1 1-2 per cent. fro mthe previous week, and that the index number now stands at $2.97 as contrasted with $5 13 a year ago, a drop of no less than 42 per cent.

We all know that clothing has come down even more than food. The result is that drygoods merchants have lately been experiencing a larger volume of business than a year ago The garment idnustry has revived wonderfully. Many lines of cotton goods are in very much better demand than the trade has foreseen Certain silk goods are actually scarce Now that carpet and rug manufacturers have been forced to lower prices improved, absorption can be expected

Industrial wages have not been reduced as much as the general price level has declined. Of course, our agricultural population, both in wheat and cotton territories, are temporarily suffering acutely because of the terrific decline in their products, but new crops will be produced at largely reduced costs and in time the equilibrium will be restored. Meanwhile, the farmer still has his productive assets intact.

* * *

Very encouraging reports come from automobile industries.

Building operations are distinctly on the increase

Executives declare that the railroads have passed the worst.

Oil interests are reviving their courage

President Harding's message was well received in financial and business circles.

The government's organization for granting credits to facilitate exports has begun to do some actual business, and congress will shortly so amend the Edge law as to enable important operations to be started in the very near future.

Meanwhile, the abnormal inflow of gold, combined with the falling price level and the high bank reserves, should have a stimulating effect upon the whole credit situation, both international and domestic. Incidentally, foreign exchanges, notably Sterling, held up amazingly, even during the most acute stage of the threatened labor cataclysm in Britain.

GENERAL TREND OF STOCKS DOWN

Oils and Coppers Prove Only Noteworthy Exceptions

NEW YORK—Oils were again the outstanding features at the uncertain opening of today's stock market. Gains of 1 to 2 1-2 points were registered by General Asphalt, Houston, Shell Transport, Royal Dutch and Standard Oil of New Jersey in the first few transactions. Otis Elevator, California Packing, International Paper, Famous Players and Hendee Manufacturing also improved with several of the rails Crucible Steel was heavy, despite denials of prospective new financing. Bethlehem Steel, Baldwin Locomotive, United Fruit, Central Leather and Industrial Alcohol eased fractionally.

The oil division, including junior issues, extended its gains during the morning, Mexican and Pan-American Petroleums showing marked strength. Motors and coppers also hardened under lead of Studebaker, Utah and Anaconda. Textiles and food shares were heavy, sugars losing 1 to 2 points on announcement of price reductions for refined products. American Woolen and Associated Dry Goods common and preferred, also reacted 1 to 2 points. Steels and equipments became moderately reactionary before noon. Rails were apathetic and bonds of that class showed increasing heaviness.

The trend of today's dull and narrow stock market was mainly downward oils and coppers proving the noteworthy exceptions. Sales approximated 475,000 shares.

The closing was irregular.

OFFICIALS CLASH OVER AUTO TIRES

Fourteen Found in Corn Shock, Claimed by R. R. Company

The city service department would be richer by 14 automobile tires if the law read "finders keepers, loosers weepers." But it don't.

Some months ago Street Superintendent C. P. Zartman while in the municipal corn field at Faurot park noticed a queer looking corn shock and upon investigating found 14 auto tires.

He placed them in the barn at the park and later turned them over to the police. The barn was broken into the day after the tires were removed.

Up until a few days ago the tires had not been identified and Service Director Elmer McClain put in a claim for them for use on city cars on the ground that his department had found them. City Solicitor Garling and Judge Emmet Jackson and Safety Director Fred Fisher were willing but Chief of Police O. J. Roush said "No," that stolen property had to be retained a year before the finder could take it as his own. McClain said the tires will be rotten in a year.

However, a Lake Erie and Western railroad detective believes they belong tothe railroad and will try to identify them. They are worth $130.

CHICAGO—Wheat declined today to the lowest price yet which the July delivery has touched this season. Big receipts northwest and improved weather conditions were the chief apparent reasons. The market showed little power to rally. Opening quotations which ranged from 3-4c to 2 1-4c lower, with May $1.22 to 1.23 and July $1.03 1-2 to 1 04 1-2 were followed by moderate further losses.

Corn sympathized with the weakness of wheat. After opening 1-8 to 3-4c lower, including July at 60 to 60 1-8, the market continued to sag.

Oats were depressed by the action of other cereals, starting 1-8 to 1-4 to 1-2c down, July 37 1-2 to 37 5-8 and then dropping still more

Provisions averaged about steady, the same as hogs.

Later the corn market hardened as a result of export business. The close was unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 1 1-8c lower with July 59 5-8 to 59 3-4.

Subsequently wheat export sales estimated at 2,000,000 bushels helped to check the weakness. Prices closed unsettled, 1-8 to 3-4c net lower with May $1.21 3-4 to $1 22 and July $1.03 3-4 to $1.03.

FREEZE AFFECTS PRICE OF PERISHABLE PRODUCE; OTHER PRICES ARE STEADY

Cold weather showed its effect on the local produce market Tuesday. Two of the products most easily affected by the frosty weather were higher in price. Leaf lettuce was up five cents, to 25 cents a pound. Strawberries were a shade higher, at 40 cents a box.

Wheat and flour prices were again steady and no change was seen in the live stock markets. Altho wheat was weak on the Chicago exchange it did not make a new low and until it does there will be further reductions in prices paid locally.

But one change was noted in the Cleveland markets Tuesday. Florida Hastings were in very good supply and the price slumped to $7.50 a barrel compared to $7.70 and $8.15 paid Monday. They are now costing approximately one-half as much as they did when they came on the market.

Butter and eggs were steady. Cheese prices were firm. Outside markets are reporting heavier demands for fruits and vegetables and that poultry receipts are continuing light. The fact that the supply of poultry does not increase as the price rises seems to show that the farmers surplus has been liquidated.

TEST OF TIME

The recent prolonged weakness in the market for stocks and bonds shows the effect of time and conditions on the general run of investments.

Wars, panics and depressions have caused no worry to those who have certificates of deposit or savings pass books of the Allen County Savings & Loan Company, in the Savings Building, corner Market and Elizabeth Streets.

Conditions which try many other forms of investment prove the stability of this strong company. It has stood the test of time and pays five per cent interest while giving one hundred per cent safety.

SUGAR MARKET

NEW YORK—The feature in the raw sugar market today was the announcement that the Cuban committee had sold 20,000 tons of Cuban to the United Kingdom at a price said to equal about 4 9-16 cost and freight. The committee also reduced their prices here to 4 5-8 cents cost and freight equal to 5.64 for centrifugal or on the basis as uncontrolled sugars. The market for refined was unchanged to 25 points lower with fine granulated now listed at 7:65 to 7.75 for hard, while several refiners are offering soft grades at 7:50.

The futures market was weak under liquidation by commission houses and selling by trade interests. Prices at midday were 10 to 16 points net lower.

HOSPITAL BOARD VOTES FINANCIAL RELIEF FOR PERIOD UNTIL AUGUST 1

Joint board of commissioners of counties making up the district finally agreed late Monday upon raising the amount of $66,000 for operation of the District Tuberculosis hospital, at the close of their session at the court house Monday.

The Metropolitan bank offered to extend credit until the close of the month. Plan of raising the amounts was not decided. Action of the commissioners from Mercer and Auglaize-cos was not unanimous, there being a thread of dissatisfaction expressed there as to the amount appropriated for financing the hospital.

The money appropriated will keep the institution in running order until August 1, 1921.

SHORT SHAVINGS

"Some people say that the Irish people are cruel to animals," says Dorothea Conyers in her Irish Sporting Reminiscences. "If they are, it is without thought that dumb beasts feel pain."

A priest met a man going into Kilkenny. He was beating a thin donkey, cruelly. "Shame, Martin Casey!" he said, "beating the poor beast like that. Don't you know it was the good, kind animal which carried our Lord into Jerusalem?"

Martin poised his stick, his face unmoved. Then, "Indeed, your reverence," he said — whack! came the stick — "if He had to be above on this wan He'd never have got there."

A traveler in Ireland stopped for a drink of milk at a white cottage with a thatched roof, and, as he sipped his refreshment he noted, on a center table under a glass dome, a brick with a faded rose upon the top of it. "Why do you cherish in this way," the traveler said to his host, "that common brick and the dead rose?" "Sure, sir," was the reply, "there's certain memories attachin' to them. Do you see this big dent in my head?" "But the rose?" "The rose," said the host, "is off the grave of the man that threw the brick."

"Is there a show in town that is not too—one, I mean, fit for an innocent young girl to see?"

"There may be, but if there is I don't know how you're going to persuade an innocent young girl to go and see it."

A. W. Wheatley is a strong advocate of the adage "work before pleasure" and he demonstrated the fact when he was in Cincinnati on the opening day of the baseball season.

"I was offered a ticket to a box seat of the opening game" he says" but I had to turn it down because of important business. But you can bet I hated to do it."

LAWRENCE HADDIX DIES FUNERAL SERVICES ARE TO BE HELD WEDNESDAY

O. Haddix, southwest corner of Cole and High-sts.

The Haddix boy died in Akron after several weeks of suffering from a complication of diseases. The body was brought here Monday afternoon. Mrs. Emma Coon and Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Haddix, grandparents, who had been at his bedside since his condition became critical, returned here with the cortege.

Before her marriage, the mother of Lawrence Haddix was Miss Pearl Coon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orren F. Coon, Spencerville-rd.

KIWANIANS HEAR TALK ON JAPAN BY Y. M. C. A. SECRETARY TO YOKAHAMA

Despite the militaristic tendencies in Japan, there is little danger of war between that nation and America if this nation does its part, Herbert Sneyd, Y. M. C. A. secretary in Yokohama, Japan, told members of the Kiwanis club at their luncheon Tuesday.

Sneyd told of the problems facing that country, progressive nation and said that with present internal condition it is only natural that the Japs seek means of expanding. He declared that a great spirit of democracy is springing up and that this along with cooperation from the outside, will remove thoughts of war in a few years.

Music was furnished by Miss Leona Feltz, piano; Mrs. A. Dimond, violin and Mrs. Gale Dunifon, cello.

Walter Jackson, president and Clayton Paine, secretary of the club, were named as delegates to the international Kiwanis convention at Cleveland in June.
